All Systems Are Go For Auto, Boat, RV Show

The community is ready, the exhibitors are ready, and the visitors are ready - all systems are go for the Second Annual Auto, Boat, and RV Show sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

Set to run from Friday, June 13 through Sunday, June 15, show coordinator Ray Scarpelli, Jr. said that the show this year promises to be far bigger and better than last year. "We have had inquiries from Wheeling, Elmhurst, and other communities that are pretty far from Antioch," Scarpelli said.

Exhibitors will display their wares at the Antioch Community High School north parking lot. There is no admission charge and guides will be available to direct visitors to the ample free parking spaces available.

The show will begin with a ribbon-cutting ceremony at 10:30 a.m. on Friday, June 13. There will be food and refreshment booths at the show. Live entertainment will be provided at various times throughout the weekend.

Chamber President Larry Hanson recommended that visitors take the opportunity to visit some of the many family restaurants and stores while visiting the show. "Antioch is known for its many conveniences in a small-town atmosphere," Hanson noted.

Exhibitors at this year's show include: Fox Lake Harbor; All Seasons Camping of

Elmhurst; Lyons-Ryan Ford; Haling's Resort; Pedersen GMC; Countryside RV Sales of Grayslake; First National Bank of Antioch; Don Pittman Motors; State Bank of Antioch; Bank of Waukegan; Raymond Chevy-Olds, Inc.; Sequoit Harbor Marina;

Sailboats, Inc. of Fox Lake; and Portside Marina of Fox Lake.

Hours of the show are: Friday, June 13, 10:30 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturday, June 14, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Sunday, June 15, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Antioch Man Involved In Mundelein Accident

An accident involving two cars took place along Butterfield and Alanson Rds. in Mundelein at 2:30 p.m. on May 17. Paul Baczynski, 24, of Antioch was southbound on Butterfield Rd. when he hit a car making a left turn off Alanson Rd. to go north on Butterfield.

According to Acting Police Chief Frazier, the drivers of both vehicles were approaching the intersection and each thought they had the right-of-way.

The driver of the other vehicle, identified as Michelle Kennett, 35, of Mundelein, was taken to Condell Memorial Hospital in Libertyville.

Baczynski was not injured in the accident. Frazier said that since both maintained they had the right-of-way, each was issued a ticket for failure to obey a traffic signal.

Marina Gets New Owners

Nordgren Realty Associates announced the sale of the Golden Griffon Marina on Grass Lake Rd. in Antioch. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dogan purchased the property from Mrs. Margaret Uterhart. The Dogans plan to operate a marina and cruise service. Dick Best of Nordgren Realty was the sole broker in the transaction.

Name Supt. At Millburn

Lee Smithey will be the new superintendent for Millburn Dist. 24.

The board of education voted May 19 to hire Smithey, who will replace Richard Framke, who is retiring.

Smithey's experience includes superintendent's positions in Walnut and Sheldon in downstate Ill.

Board president Mary Lester said 40 candidates applied for the position and the screening committee reduced that number to four interviews.

VFW Slates Annual Dance

Antioch VFW Post No. 4551 will hold their Fifth Annual Memorial Day Dance and prize awarding on Saturday, May 31, from 8 p.m. to midnight. Frankie Merle and His Dixieland Band will provide the entertainment. First prize of $200, second prize of $100, or third prize of $50 will be awarded.

Thirty veterans from the North Chicago Veterans' Hospital have been invited to attend the dance. Everyone is encouraged to come out to greet them and enjoy the fun.

Antioch News Celebrates Its Centennial

Lakeland Newspapers Publisher Bill Schroeder announced that a series of events are being planned to celebrate the Antioch News' hundredth year of publication. "The Antioch News began in 1886 and combined with the Antioch Reporter just last year," Schroeder said. "We will be among several 100-year-old businesses that will be honored by the Illinois Historical Society on Sept. 12 at the Palmer House in Chicago."

Throughout the summer, the Antioch News-Reporter will honor long-time subscribers and print retrospective accounts of how the village of Antioch and the newspaper have grown together.

Mel Knirsh of the Lakes Region Historical Society will establish a special committee to coordinate the observance.

The annual pet and bike parade will have a centennial theme this year. All activities connected with the observance will coincide with the summer season in Antioch.

Lakeland Marketing Dir., Bill Schroeder, Jr., is putting together a special "100 Club" advertising program for merchants in the Antioch area. This program will offer special value and prominence to all Antioch area businesses that participate. Further details will be announced the second week of June.

The many planned activities will culminate with an old-time ice cream social and community picnic at the end of the summer and a special, commemorative issue of the Antioch-News-Reporter at the beginning of September. Antioch Editor Charles Johnston has been named to act as historian and research the history of Antioch and journalism in the Antioch News.

The ice cream social will be a truly grand closing for the summer season. Lakeland officials plan this event to be an old-time community festival. The grandstand will have red, white, and blue bunting and Antioch News-Reporter employees will wear straw hats and red and white striped vests. Plans call for a brass band playing marches and for a barber shop quartet to perform during the day.

There will be games for the children, events for the adults, and perhaps an old-fashioned Sunday afternoon baseball game. Plans are underway to bring a major speaker to highlight the afternoon.

"We want to put together a real celebration that everyone in the community will have a chance to participate in," Schroeder said.

Athlete Of The Week

Shawn Wiltse, center, was chosen Athlete of the Week at Antioch High School for his 26 game season batting average of .417. Wiltse is the first player to hit over .400 in several years at Antioch. Rich Brown, left, varsity baseball coach, presented Wiltse with a commemorative plaque. Dale O'Donnell, representing the State Bank of Antioch, contributed $50 to the Parent-Teacher Scholarship Fund in Wiltse's name.

NICC Kicks Off 1986 Summer Fishing Derby

The Northern Illinois Conservation Club (NICC) kicked off its annual summer fishing derby at midnight on May 24. More than 500 specially tagged fish worth over $50,000 in prizes were released into various spots throughout the Chain O' Lakes.

The fish are sponsored by various businesses and individuals. The major sponsors include Coca Cola, which sponsored two $5,000 fish; Old Style, which sponsored two $5,000 fish; and Johnson Outboard, which sponsored a 1986 15-horsepower outboard motor. Great American Federal Savings sponsored several fish worth a total value of $1,000.

To enter the derby, fishermen need only pay a $3 fee at any of the 14 registration and claiming stations throughout the area. Once registered, any fisherman catching a prize fish may claim their prize at the same station at which he registered. For information on registration, call (312) 395-6422.

Proceeds from the derby will go to support various conservation-oriented projects in the Chain O' Lakes area, such as muskie stocking and providing the Dept. of Conservation (DOC), Region II with supplemental equipment to assist in their Chain O' Lakes area projects. Last year, the NICC provided a back pack shocker and a scale press machine to the DOC.

The derby will continue through the summer, ending at midnight on Sept. 1.

Antioch Woman Raps Postal Procedures

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

An Antioch woman has filed a complaint with the postal service's regional office about lost and found procedures at the Antioch post office.

The woman, Jean Cederquist, said that she accidentally left a gold necklace and two charms at the Antioch post office on a Monday night. On the following Wednesday, she realized that she might have left the items at the post office. That afternoon, she called the post office. The clerk she spoke to said that one of the charms was still there and would be held for her.

Cederquist said that when she went over to pick the remaining charm up, she realized that it had been kept in a box on the counter where lost keys, mittens, and other items of little value are usually stored. Saying that she was stunned, Cederquist called postmaster, Stan Luta, and asked why this happened. She said that Luta told her the item had appeared to be a trinket that did not have much value.

Contacted by the Antioch News-Reporter, Luta confirmed that the jewelry did not appear to have much value. "It looked like a child's toy, so we just put it on the counter," Luta said. He added that effective immediately, the lost and found box will be kept behind the counter.

Postal employee Ronald Rock said that he had spoken with Cederquist and her mother-in-law before they filed a complaint. "They said at that time that the reason they were upset was because the charms had sentimental value more than anything else," Rock said.

Still, Cederquist has complained to Charles Caton, director of the North Suburban Postal Facilities about the policy at the Antioch post office. At press time, no official action had been taken.

Whatever the findings may be, Cederquist has accomplished her goal of having no lost and found items sitting where the general public has unsupervised access.

VARICOSE VEINS

New Solution Eliminates Old Problem

Vain about Varicose Veins? Timothy Ryan, M.D., whose vascular laboratory is located at the North Point Medical/Dental Center, 1911 27th Street, Zion, says there is no need.

Ryan, a Board-Certified surgeon specially trained in diseases of the veins and arteries, can now eliminate the unsightly and sometimes painful veins non-surgically on an outpatient basis.

It used to be that "vein stripping", which was a painful surgical procedure that needed hospitalization and in all cases left scarring, was the most effective way of removing varicose veins, says Ryan. Now sclerotherapy, a procedure where an injection directly into the veins collapses the vein making it disappear, is just as effective as "stripping" with no scarring or any other side effect, and can be done as an outpatient right at the Center. Another benefit from sclerotherapy is that the expense is much less than the stripping procedure with no pain, said Julie Nielson a recent patient of Ryan's. "I'm so glad Dr. Ryan is trained in this new procedure, now I can go to the beach this summer and not have to completely cover up," Nielsen said.

Reoccurrence of the varicose vein following this procedure is very unlikely. Following the injection into the vein, the leg is wrapped in an elastic bandage for a minimum of three weeks. After that time the patient is required to wear a compression stocking usually three to four weeks depending on the severity of the case. If the varicose vein does in fact occur again which is not unusual, it will not happen for about five years. The rate of reoccurrence depends on several factors including the condition of the valves in the deep venous system and the amount of time the patient wears compression stockings. If the varicose vein does reappear, no matter how long after the treatment, the procedure is redone at no additional cost. It's one fee per leg for life, says Ryan.

It is estimated that five percent of the population has varicose veins—mostly females of childbearing age and both males and females over the age of 50.

Varicose veins are caused by incompetency of the venous system of the lower extremity. This breakdown of the valve system can be a result of pregnancy, previous history of deep venous thrombosis (blood clots) or heredity. The condition usually manifests itself in the way of chronic pain or aching and occasionally as swelling of the lower legs. Venography was the standard method of diagnosing this condition in the past. With our new equipment and this new procedure all that is passe, said Ryan.

Ryan is one of a few physicians who perform sclerotherapy in Lake County. However, this procedure is utilized in Europe where doctors have been using it for the past 10 to 15 years. According to Ryan, lack of interest and knowledge in venous disease has kept physicians away from it.

Ryan, a former assistant professor of vascular surgery at the Chicago Medical School, recently left the University and started a Venous Disease Clinic in the North Point Medical/Dental Center at 1911 27th Street in Zion because of the requests for this new procedure.

For information or an appointment, contact Dr. Ryan's office at 872-8722.

Waukegan Tamburitza

Tamburitza To Appear At Croatian Picnic

On the occasion of their 13th annual concert on Sunday, June 8, rain or shine, the Waukegan Croatian Tamburitza will break with tradition and transform their Croatian Cultural Center (located at 11th and Sheridan Rd., North Chicago) and its picnic grounds into a spectacular picnic/concert extravaganza that will highlight 12 tamburitza groups.

With so much talent, there will be non-stop entertainment for everyone's dancing and listening pleasure, all beginning at noon and extending into the late evening.

The picnic menu for the day will include such Croatian favorites as barbecued lamb and chicken, and the usual extras, such as sausages, hot dogs, home-baked desserts (including strudels and poticas) and of course, refreshments. Sale of lamb will begin at 11 a.m.

The concert portion, under the direction of Frank (Pancho) Maydak, will include the adult and junior Tamburitza Orchestra from Chicago, under the direction of Tony Muselin. The junior orchestras will perform from 3 to 4 p.m.

Admission for this tambura-fest will be $5 for adults; $2 for children 12 and under.

Parking is available in the area of the Croatian Cultural Center and, also, Mother of God Church parking lot (after 10 a.m.), 520 10th St., and in the Petrosius Funeral Home parking lot at 315 10th St.

To Feature Stodola

The Waukegan Symphony Orchestra will present its last concert of the 1985-86 season on May 31, at 8 p.m., at the Genesee Theater.

The featured soloist will be Lynn Stodola, who fell in love with the piano at the tender age of three, and has continued a fulltime affair with it ever since.

Born in Waukegan, Stodola's performances have won wide acclaim at major music centers in this country, and throughout Canada and Europe. She will play Prokofiev's "Piano Concerto No. 3," which will be recognized as one of the principal works in a recent movie, "The Competition."

Stodola is currently the associate professor of music at Dalhousie University in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Beethoven's third "Leonore Overture" to his opera, "Fidelio," and Dvorak's "New World" Symphony No. 9, will be the other popular selections on the program.

Ticket information for individuals and groups may be obtained by calling (312) 244-1660. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Offer Lessons

Master guitarist Shinobu Sato has openings for private guitar students at the David Adler Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville. Half-hour lessons are available on Saturday afternoons and Monday evenings.

Sato, who began teaching at the cultural center in January, has taught at Lake Forest College, the Lake Forest Symphony Music, Hoge Music in Evanston and the Old Town School of Folk Music in Chicago and Evanston.

He has performed in concert at the David Adler Cultural Center, the Old Town School of Folk Music, various clubs and festivals in the Midwest and California, and in the People's Republic of China and his native Japan.

Sato offers instruction in classical, jazz, blues, ragtime and traditional folk styles. For information, call (312) 367-0707.

Schedule Camp Sign-Up

The David Adler Cultural Center is accepting advance registration for a special art camp experience for children to be held this summer. Children who have an interest in art are offered an opportunity to spend three days a week drawing, painting, sculpting, and exploring special craft projects under the direction of Joan Galantha, popular children's art instructor.

The program stresses a warm supportive environment, activities designed to develop positive peer relating and encourage self-esteem, as well as develop artistic skills. Extensive use will be made of the Adler House grounds.

Two sessions, beginning June 24 and July 22 respectively, will be held. Participants meet from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Cost is $200 per session. Students must enroll for full session.

The Center is located at 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville. Call (312) 367-0707 for details and registration. Enrollment limited to 15 per session and early registration is encouraged. Ages eight to 12.

Chorus Finishes 5th

The Chain O'Lakes chorus earned a fifth place honorable mention in the regional competition, an honor that is not easily accomplished by a small chorus. This chorus performed to a standing ovation. It was quite apparent that the chorus excelled in showmanship, musical skill, and leadership.

If there was a weakness in this group, it laid with a lack of membership—a lack that interested local singers could fill.

The McHenry Country Chord Co. (Gail Dughi, Mary Jane Bartlow, Dottie Kaufman and Mary Jane Boelens) were very happy and excited with their achievement in placing sixth place out of 19 in the quartet competition. The chorus is certainly proud of their success.

The Chain O'Lakes Chapter, Sweet Adelines, Inc., is seeking members to help this well directed, musically fun group to realize it's full potential when they compete in the 1987 Regional Competition. It is very difficult for a 49 voice chorus to compete effectively against larger choruses. So, how about it gals!! Interested in singing? The Chain O'Lakes chorus wants to teach and train people in the art of four-part harmony, barbershop style. Women 16 and over, with a love for music are welcome.

Silhouettes in Sound (Linda Carter, Pat Wozniak, Patt Stevens and Linda Marzocco) of Region 22 and 3 on their terrific performance that won them a first place medal in their recent regional competitions. (Linda Carter is also a member of the Melodeers). Their win qualifies the Silhouettes in Sound to compete this fall in the International Competitions to be held in Philadelphia.

The Melodeers will go on to Hawaii to compete in the international competition in the fall of 87.

The Chain O'Lakes Chapter, Sweet Adelines, Inc., is seeking members to help this well directed, musically fun group to realize it's full potential when they compete in the 1987 Regional Competition. It is very difficult for a 49 voice chorus to compete effectively against larger choruses. So, how about it gals!! Interested in singing? The Chain O'Lakes chorus wants to teach and train people in the art of four-part harmony, barbershop style. Women 16 and over, with a love for music are welcome.

A musical training is not required, only the desire to sing. Be a guest of the Chain O'Lakes for five weeks, when only then, will the invitation to join the chorus as a full time member be given.

Rehearsals under the direction of Jim Arns, an excellent teacher, meets at Mundelein High School, 1350 Hawley St. on Thursday nights, at 7:30 p.m. in the Choral room. Bring a friend. For more information call: Julie (312) 356-7526, Ruth (312) 362-0886, or Olga (312) 336-9236.

Artist Has Cover

College of Lake County art instructor, Dan Ziembo of Lake Villa, is cover artist for the June 1986 issue of "American Artist Magazine." Photographs of Ziembo's paintings and a feature article, also, are included in the monthly publication.

Ziembo discusses his techniques, supplies, influences and inspirations with author Betsy Schein Goldman.

Sheriff To Update Files

The Lake County Sheriff's Police Crime Prevention Bureau is seeking to update its homeowner associations and neighborhood watch files, according to Sheriff Robert H. Babcox.

"This will allow us to better serve and work with the public," Babcox said.

Art Fest

Applications are being accepted for Festival of the Arts 1986, sponsored by The David Adler Cultural Center. The two-day festival, combining art and music, food booths, and children's art activities, will be held on Aug. 2 and 3 from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. All fine art and craft media are eligible for jurying.

South Pacific Opens

"Bali Hai, I hear you calling..." and who it's calling is an audience to PM&L's production of "South Pacific." This Rodgers and Hammerstein classic hit musical will open Friday and Saturday, May 30 and 31, with an 8:30 p.m. curtain.

Subsequent performances will be held June 6, 7, 13, 14, 20 and 21 at 8:30 p.m. and at 2:30 p.m. on June 8 and 15. Reservations are a must and can be made at (312) 395-3055. Reservations will be valid until 15 minutes before show time.

A special, complimentary champagne reception will follow the opening night performance.

Brunch Becomes Popular Sunday Treat Out

by GLORIA DAVIS

The idea of spending a lazy late Sunday morning and early afternoon munching on a brunch that has been slaved over by someone else has become increasingly popular in the last 10 years.

For many, Sunday brunch has replaced the ritual of eating Sunday dinner out.

Those who attend church services find their religious endeavor becomes a more special event when topped off by an elegant Sunday brunch at their favorite restaurant.

Like the "all you can eat fish fry", Sunday brunch draws the hearty eaters since many restaurants that offer brunch put forth gorgeous buffet tables laden with a sumptuous assortment of fresh fruits, flakey pastries, the usual breakfast egg-favorites (sometimes disguised as a fluffy omelette or eggs benedict), garnished with bacon and sausage.

If one wants to make a feasting day of it, many brunches also offer hot dinner entrees so one can breakfast, relax over coffee or champagne with some interesting conversation while digestion is taking place and then start all over again with dinner.

This could give Mom a real day off from her kitchen duties, leaving just a light supper to be served later on.

The menus and prices for Sunday brunch are as varied as the restaurants that serve them.

Rustic Manor in Gurnee offers a champagne brunch on Sundays for $7.50 for adults.

Andres Steak House in Richmond has a popular brunch running from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. every week, adults pay $7.95 and children $4.95.

One of the most elegant brunches in the area is held every Sunday at the Abbey in Fontana on Lake Geneva, complete with chefs flipping custom-made omelettes and gorgeous tables decorated with ice sculptures. And if its mountains of food that pleases, why not try brunch at Hunter Country Club in Richmond?

The Red Geranium in Lake Geneva caters to those that prefer relaxing on their day off and being served one of their special breakfasts at the table.

Zackerys at the Holiday Inn in Gurnee offers brunch for $8.95, as does the Country House in Antioch at $4.95.

McHenry's Chapel Hill Country Club has a brunch menu that includes Belgian waffles besides cheesy omelettes for $5.50.

B. L. Plentys in Grayslake has 10 hot entrees on their brunch buffet table, all for $5.95.

Pet Of The Week

Terria and Darby Fowler, Bristol, have a great companion in their dog Duke. Mom Cheryl says she doesn't worry much about the children because when they're out exploring the farm, Duke is always nearby. The 10-year-old collie and shepherd mix has his own ideas about fun. Among his favorite activities are running around the big farm and running after the animals. You can tell he's a good farm dog! When in a more passive mood, Duke likes laying in the shade and sleeping on the roof. And oh yes—Duke likes to eat the cat's food! Mom says Duke likes coming indoors, and sometimes is treated to being inside. Terria, 7, and Darby, 5, attend Paris School. If you have a pet and would like him/her in the Pet of the Week spotlight, contact the editor of this newspaper. — Photo by Cindy Kujak.

Homemakers To Meet

June 10, the Avon Unit Homemakers will be meeting at Florence McKay's home for the annual picnic and lesson.

Starting at 9 a.m. for coffee with Jessie Wantola, Camille Nale, Margaret Groves, Grace Reinholds, and Marge Sanders helping.

McKay will present a film on "The Promise of Pakistan." Our international study was on Pakistan.

Sanders will report on the lesson on "Getting the Most from your Camera." Some of the report will be on slides.

Avon Unit has announced a new member, Mabel Larsen, and hopes that she will enjoy the club.

July 25 Founders Picnic will be held at Hwy. 176 and Fairfield Rd., starting at 12:30 p.m. Bring a dish to pass and white elephants for prizes. See you there.

If anyone would like further information on Lake County Homemakers Extension Assn., ask at the Lake County Fair or call 312)223-5472.

Appoint Foreman

Arthur C. "Cappy" Eads, president of the National District Attorneys Assn., has appointed Lake County State's Attorney Fred Foreman to the Advisory Committee to the United States Sentencing Commission.

The commission has been appointed by the Dept. of Justice to review sentencing guidelines established for the federal judiciary. The commission's chairman is the Honorable William Wilkins, of Columbia, S.C.

As a member of the advisory committee, Foreman will provide information concerning the prosecution position on sentencing. Foreman also serves as treasurer of the National District Attorneys Assn. and is a member of the executive committee.

Foreman has also been appointed as the chairman of the Prosecution Function Sub-Committee for the Criminal Justice Section of the American Bar Assn. As chairman of the subcommittee, Foreman will present the prosecution viewpoint on policy, legislation, judicial appointments and other matters taken up by the criminal justice section of the American Bar Assn.

He will receive input from prosecutors from throughout the nation and present a unified position of the nation's prosecutors to the American Bar Assn. The appointment is effective in August of 1986 and will conclude in July of 1987.

Offer Office Skills Class

The YWCA of Lake County will be offering a six-week office skills class starting June 10. The class will meet on Tuesday and Thursday, from 9 a.m. to noon, at the YWCA, located at 445 N. Genesee, Waukegan.

The classes are designed for women who want to upgrade their office skills or as an introduction to office procedures. Tuition for the class is $15.

Topics to be covered are beginning and refresher typing, dictaphone, phone etiquette, filing, office attire, job applications, resumes, job interviewing and the job search.

The YWCA also offers free employment assistance on an individual basis. Services include career counseling, resume writing, interviewing techniques and job placement referrals.

For more information about these services, or to register for the class, call Sally Foster or Tammy Mortensen at (312) 662-4248.

Congratulations To Grass Lake Honor Students

by ARDEEN HARRIS
(312)395-2761

The end of an era for the Grass Lake area is coming, with the demolition of the building on Grass Lake Rd. and Rte. 59. The Emmons one room school house is no longer. What a shame that it

Lions Club pavillion. What a treat and what fun tying the balloons onto 20 preschoolers. A few made it to the roof of the pavillion and one went up to the sky. Tony gave up on the one in the air, but he tried his hardest to get the ones down from the roof.

Grass Lake News

was destroyed in the process of making a modern restaurant. For those of you who don't know, the dining room of Nielson's was the original Emmons one room school house. It was moved to the corner for the dining room of Nielson's Restaurant, when the modern Emmons School was built. Check into the archives of the Lake County Museum in Wauconda for more interesting facts about the area.

Camp Crayola had its final Monday/Wednesday session on May 21 with a special program presented by the class. Grass Lake residents were aplenty and helped make the program complete. The little peanut on the railroad track was Lindsey Ericksen and the train was Brian Jannotte. Kevin Collins played the bear who went over the mountain. The three little ducks were played by Nicole Santiemmo, Charissa Misch and Kimberly Ericksen with Becky Birren as the mommy duck and Nathan Carden as the daddy duck. The three little monkeys were played by Ajshe Meno, Christine Granfield and Becky Birren with Rayn Collins as the doctor and Keli Owens as the delivery boy. The song on the bus had Steve Sesko as the wheels, Angela Granfield as the horn, Danny Turner as the daddy, Nicole Santiemmo as the baby, Keli Owens as the driver, Jennifer Hart as the money and Brian Jannotte as the doors. The program ended with a special picnic at Williams Park. A very special surprise was presented to the class by Tony and Pat Santiemmo as twenty helium balloons filled their car as they drove up to the

As I reported last week, here are the results of the awards program. First, congratulations to David Clauson who is the 1985-86 valedictorian and to John Cole who is the 1985-86 class salutatorian. ## Strang Funeral Home of Antioch

Kapischke's Snapshot Reviews Public Career

by JOHN STEINKE

County Board Dist. 4 is a predominantly Republican area with a bounty on Democrats and a monopoly on political mediocrity.

It encompasses Antioch, Avon, Grant and Lake Villa Twp. in western Lake County. Before the March 18 primary, I authored a column depicting the six GOP county board aspirants as legitimate candidates for a turkey shoot. These were the choices: a power-crazed incumbent (Norm Geary), a political Judas (Pat Anderson), two unwitting rubber stamps (Charlotte Kiesgan and Bill Mestan) and two political clowns (Joe Tobolik and Ray Edwards.) A handful of Republican primary voters elected Geary and Kiesgan. All of them wore shopping bags over their heads to conceal their identities as they cast their ballots in the Dist. 4 race.

My column inspired Janet Kapischke of Lindenhurst to send me a three-and-a-half page, single-spaced, typed letter analyzing western Lake County politics. Mrs. Kapischke was a member of the Lake County Board (1978-1982). Two years ago, she was defeated for the county board in the Republican primary. In 1984, the Lake County GOP Central Committee censured Kapischke for supporting Democrat Barbara

Lumber of Round Lake over Republicans Fred Popp of Lake Villa and Jim Fields of Antioch for the county board. Kapischke is a harsh critic of Lindenhurst Mayor Bob Ratch. She opposes Ratch's efforts to secure a fire-and-safety facility for the village. Mrs. Kapischke is a staunch supporter of the Lake Villa volunteer fire dept., which opposes Mayor Ratch's recommendation to provide adequate fire protection for the most populous community in the township. Here are excerpts from Kapischke's correspondence:

1. DIST. 4 COUNTY BOARD REPRESENTATION:

"I have been watching the Lakeland Newspapers for some 20 years now and you are not the first writer to bemoan the quality of candidates that Dist. 4 generates. I have pondered this for quite some time and basically I think that Dist. 4 generates representatives that are really just like the constituency in Dist. 4. No better or no worse, exactly alike...Every once in awhile an odd-ball gets in there but by and large the people send their exact duplicate to represent them."

2. JIM FIELDS AND ANTIOCH TWP.:

"You wonder why Antioch sends a man

(Jim Fields), who has not yet sufficiently proven his ability to read as their representative? Well, I'll bet a survey would reveal that most of those folks up in Antioch also enjoy the same blissful state of ignorance. The masses in Antioch have proven over the years that the only political representative who 'lasts' is the one who votes against everything and makes sure nothing is accomplished with his cooperation."

3. DIST. 4 REP. NORM GEARY:

"Your allusion to Geary swinging a big vote to Popp and Fields in the 1984 general election to defeat (Democrat Barbara) Lumber was certainly true. But had Geary supported me in the (1984) primary, perhaps (Fred) Popp would not have been in the general election. I met with Geary some time in January of '84 to ask for his support. He allowed that I had been a good county board member and he knew that Popp would not attend the meetings or do the work if he were elected, but he said, 'Fred is going to vote for me for County Board Chairman if I support him. You didn't vote for me when you were on the (county) board the last time.' I said, 'I know that Norm, that was then, this is now. I wouldn't see any reason why I won't promise you my vote for (the) chairmanship this year around, and you know I work very hard.' He waived, then I said, 'Norm, you're supporting someone who you know will not show up and do the job. There's something else you evidently don't know about Fred Popp. That is that Fred rarely keeps his word.' Norm just leaned back and smiled as though I was really addled and as though he was the shoo-in candidate for County Board Chairman. We have a lot of fun ribbing Norm to this day because Popp ran true to form...You really shellacked Norm and I was sorry to see that. As it turned out he won the election anyway but never the less...I know that he was a bad temper...The fact of the matter is, that while Norm 'ruffles a few feathers' now and then, believe me he is a hard-working individual and one of the few people who is widely-respected by other members of our county board. Norm always shows up ready to do business. He is always informed and when he speaks out there is never that feeling—'Don't tell me this ignoramus represents my area.' If we don't have Norm Geary, who do we have? Mr. Illiterate (Jim Fields) from Antioch? Mr. Not Present (Fred Popp) from Lake Villa? Miss Recently Unhitched From a Plow from Fox Lake (Charlotte Kiesgan)?"

4. LAKE LAND NEWSPAPERS:

Kapischke attributed her 1984 defeat for the county board to Lakeland Newspaper. She writes: "However, Norm (Geary) was not the deciding factor in that primary election, the main support for Fred Popp was supplied by your predecessor (Roger Ruthhart), the political columnist for the Lakeland Newspapers...The yardage (in the newspaper) provided Fred Popp was a politician's dream. Every page had an event involving Fred...My campaign manager and I brought countless articles to Lakeland and they were always 'misplaced'—dropped on the floor by mistake—just 'ran out of (the) room' or met with some similar ghostly fate. So my manager and I betook ourselves to have a little conference with (Publisher) Bill (Schroeder) and the political editor (Roger Ruthhart). After they stooped playing 'you're a woman who is imagining things' etc., we got to talking about Fred Popp. Bill commented that he thought Fred had wonderful qualifications. After all, he had a very responsible job with Illinois Bell and he was township supervisor. So, I asked Bill specifically how he imagined Fred was going to do all these jobs at once. Bill just looked away...But anyway when anyone from your paper complains about the quality of elected officials, I think of your paper and Fred Popp."

Steinke On Politics

COMMENT:

Jan, your letter persuades me that Norm Geary always places the public welfare ahead of his personal ambitions. Before 1984 Republican primary, Geary acknowledged that you had been a competent county board member. He admitted that Fred Popp was an ineffectual representative. Then Geary refused to endorse your county board candidacy because he mistakenly believed that "Freddie the Freeloader" Popp would support his election as county board chairman. Thanks for the setting record straight.

Your local Lakeland Newspaper is the official newspaper of this community, authorized by statute to publish legal notices required by law.

Award Schaffer

Illinois Dept. of Public Health Director Bernard J. Turnock, left, presents Sen. Jack Schaffer (32nd Dist.) with a plaque in recognition and appreciation for his efforts on the Newborn Screening Program in Illinois. The program, which identifies babies with genetic disorders, was developed as a result of legislation sponsored by Sen. Schaffer.

Films Available

In a continuing effort to 'make Lake County a better, safer place to live, the Lake County Sheriffs' Dept. has purchased two new audiovisual films.

These award-winning films were developed for the department in its fight against drug abuse. The programs may be obtained through the department's community relations office and are available for showing, free of charge, to schools, civic clubs, churches and parent groups.

"Cocaine" explains the dangers of the drug, the types of users, the history of use in America and how the habit can be overcome.

For additional information, or to schedule a free showing of any of these films, contact Sgt. Ralph Connard, Lake County Sheriffs' Dept., at (312)360-5922.

Announce Essays

Three students from St. Peter's school and one from Emmons won honors in the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary Unit 748 essay contest. Writing on the subject, "Government of the people, by the people, and for the people - what does it mean to me," Christy Delaney of St. Peter's took first place. Her essay will be forwarded to the American Legion's 10th District competition.

Announce Dean's List

Thirteen Lakeland area students at Illinois State University have been recognized for their scholarship by being included in the Dean's List of their respective colleges for spring semester.

They are: Marjorie Allen, Helene Noethling, George Alexoff and Skelley, Gurnee; Jill and Kathryn Lofgren; Cynthia and Steven Gustafson.

Navy Students At CLC

A select group of Navy recruits are attending school at the College of Lake County, Grayslake, as part of their service mission.

Each year the Navy selects 240 applicants and 10 alternates for the Enlisted Educational Advancement Program (EEAP). During the 1985-86 academic year eight of these young people attended CLC, according to Beth Popham, civilian academic director for those stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Training Base, North Chicago.

Navy students participating and their course of study are: Dennis Hayes, business management; Russell Keck, building construction technology; John Lege III, business; Michael Lott, pre-engineering; Danilo Ong, pre-engineering; Steven Palmer, business; Harold Valentine, pre-engineering; and Keith Wright, data processing.

"We want to represent the Navy while on campus," explained Chief Petty Officer Russell Keck.

Regular duty military people are selected to attend school full-time carrying 12 credit hours per semester. The Navy requires certain courses and monitors their academic progress through Popham.

Between semesters the students work in their rate-related career field at the Great Lakes base. Upon completion of their studies participants may elect to apply for the Enlisted Commissioning Program (ECP) and earn a baccalaureate degree from one of 12 universities.

The College of Lake County grants transfer credits to apply toward a baccalaureate. Three of the eight current students, Palmer, Wright and Lott, are planning to apply for the ECP, according to the Chief Petty Officer Keck.

Students In Navy Program

WKRS Announces New Schedule

Nick Farella, program director of Waukegan Radio Stations WKRS-AM and WXLC-FM, has announced several changes in the weekend program schedule for WKRS, all effective May 31 and June 1.

Walt Stare and the popular SWAPSHOP program returns to Saturday mornings in its original time slot, kicking off at 9 a.m. Stare, host of SWAPSHOP for many years on WKRS, is excited about the move. "My listeners love the show and have asked us for a return to mornings. We look forward to the change." SWAPSHOP has been airing Saturday afternoons from 1-5 p.m. for the last six months.

Bob Thomas, WKRS weekday personality, now moves his weekend airship from Sunday afternoons to Saturdays. Thomas, an avid Bears fan, hopes the switch lasts "at least through the football season." Bob brings his unique wit and humor to the Saturday WKRS lineup. Farella is particularly enthusiastic about a new Sunday afternoon program on WKRS, RADIO SPIRITS, a series of old-time radio shows that will bring fond memories to many WKRS listeners.

"These are high-quality, original programs," Farella stated. "I'm sure our listeners will be as excited as we are with the variety and 'nostalgia' that RADIO SPIRITS will provide."

RADIO SPIRITS will air each Sunday afternoon from 1-4 p.m., beginning June 1.

Valasek Graduates

Virginia Valasek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Valasek, Wauconda, received the degree of bachelor of business administration in accounting, magna cum laude at commencement exercises at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater. Valasek will be employed on the auditing staff of Arthur Andersen & Co., Milwaukee.

To Receive Citation

The College of Lake County High Technology Advisory Committee has been selected to represent Illinois and receive a presidential citation at a conference for the National Assn. of State Councils on Vocational Education, June 8-9.

The college has also won a

VIP award from the Illinois Council on Vocational Educational Education.

"This is a very high honor for the college as well as the committee."

Ken Paterson, of Wildwood, will represent the advisory committee at the citation presentation. Mike McEvoy, with Baxter-Travenol, is the alternate. Paterson, manager of Central Engineering Services at Motorola, Inc., has served CLC in various capacities for several years.

He was a member of the CAD/CAM Advisory Committee and spoke at the honor's convocation.

One Out of Five Families is Repaying a Personal Loan... Most Are Paying Too Much!

Most finance companies are charging rates which are considerably higher than you can get locally at SkoFed Credit. That difference could mean thousands of extra dollars in interest charges.

SkoFed Credit is in the business of helping families when they need extra money to cover the following:

- home improvements
- college costs
- bill consolidations
- investment opportunities
- funding IRAs
- vacations
- any worthwhile purpose

Our personal loans are available from $1,200 based on collateral or credit rating. In most cases, your loan can be approved in as little as 24 to 48 hours. And you'll appreciate our rates.

Hurting The Middle

Tax reform is one of those subjects that attracts wide interest and broad support—until the specifics are enumerated. Then the going gets sticky. So many of the changes in the federal tax system being advanced as reform measures aren't constructive reform at all. They're change for the sake of change.

Middle America is going to take too much of a lambasting under proposed reforms, both for individual taxpayers and small business owners. The proposed curtailment of IRA's would be especially hurtful to middle income taxpayers, who already carry a disproportionate part of the federal tax burden. Limiting tax free contributions to 401(K) retirement plans falls in the same category. Killing tax shelters and ending special treatment of capital gains will be more detrimental to prudent middle income citizens who invest rather than tightening the screws on fat cats as reform is intended. Too many of the reform plans hit business excessively such as elimination of the investment tax credit.

Tax reform will be counter-productive if it inhibits—as it appears—venture capitalists and entrepreneurs. Lumping the tax limit on earned income and capital gains at 27 percent sounds pretty good until considering the fact that the tax on capital gains would jump a tidy seven percent. That's a different coloration and a stiff penalty to pay for selling an asset.

Healthy skepticism and a go slow approach would seem advisable regarding tax reform. This is one time we don't mind the politicians dilly dallying. We're going to get hurt if the reform pushers are permitted to move too fast.

Hand-To-Mouth Combat

Hand-to-mouth combat is about to break out in Antioch in America's fast food war. The weapons are burgers, soft drinks and French fries.

When construction is completed this summer, there will be food establishments on all four corners of the intersection of Rtes. 173 and 83 on the south edge of the village, making it Lakeland's most enticing spot for hungry people.

It used to be that America was the land with gasoline filling stations on every corner of every major intersection. Profit-hungry Arabs took care of that with the petroleum shortage, the result being that the traditional service station went the way of the dodo bird.

Famine is a way of life in many Third World nations. The way eat spots are springing up here and elsewhere across the land, it's easy to get the idea that marketers are doing their best to suppress a different kind of famine in the U.S.

Fire up the grills! Check the ice machines! Signal the fry depot to rush new supplies to the war zone! It's do or die on the fast food front!

Mayor Makes Difference

Fox Lake is experiencing a remarkable resurgence in community life. Villagers in any municipality who are dissatisfied with the way things are going have only to look to Fox Lake for inspiration that things can be turned around in a hurry—with the right person in the mayor's chair.

After years of lethargy, cronyism and outright thievery in local government, Fox Lake has rebounded under the guidance of Mayor William Dam, who has infected his community with new vision and a new will to succeed.

First, Mayor Dam wielded a heavy broom in the village hall when elected in 1985. Then he set about cleaning up the town, tearing down old shacks, getting rid of junk cars, eliminating eyesores. Under the former village administration, Fox Lake was the laughing stock of Lakeland. If Mayor Dam has his way, it soon will be the envy of neighboring villages.

The lesson to be learned from the Fox Lake experience is that the person in charge makes the difference. Voters take heed.

Letters To The Editor:

Facing Ruin

Editor:

Is it fair for us to face financial ruin from the nuclear industry?

The Price-Anderson Act of 1957 sets the compensation limit for any one accident in the nuclear industry at $560 million. (The federal taxpayers pay $500 million; the utility pays $60 million.) Why is the nuclear industry the only industry exempt from common law liability? Why hasn't the Price-Anderson Act compensation limit been raised to a reasonable level, such as $500 billion?

In the computer projections made for the U.S. government in 1982 by Sandia National Laboratories, there is a chance that one or two of the 80 operating U.S. nuclear plants will have a catastrophic nuclear accident by the year 2000. The "Wash 7-40 Update" cites structural failure, instrument malfunctions, and operator error as preventing the emergency core cooling system from being foolproof.

In 1982, the NRC warned that Zion's Unit 1, one of the world's largest nuclear stations, has reactor walls that are becoming dangerously brittle and will need modifications to protect against a major accident. Has this been fixed?

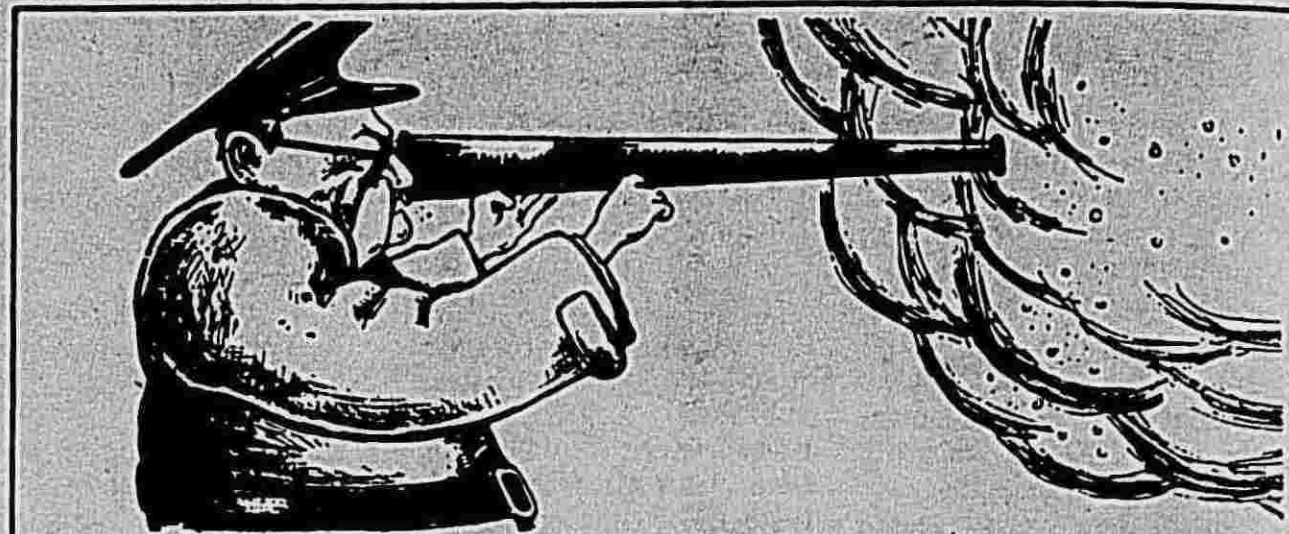

In the worst case of reactor breach, Zion 1 could have 14,000 fatalities, 155,000 injured, 17,000 cancer deaths, and $146 billion in property damage. Yet, the liability limit is only $560 million.

Letter To Son Who's About To Say 'I Do'

by BILL SCHROEDER

This is going to be a love letter of sorts. Men don't write love letters to other men—unless they happen to be father and son.

Dear Son:

You are about to take the biggest step of your life—getting married. Your wedding day will be a happy-sad occasion for your mother and me. We'll be happy for you and your bride, but we'll be sad that you'll be leaving our home.

I am proud that you are following in your father's footsteps. I guess you were destined to be a newspaperman. You arrived in stop-the-presses fashion: at press time on publication day.

Watching you grow up has been thrilling and exciting. As our first born, you helped your mother and me learn about child rearing. I learned that childhood traits are indelible. You weren't afraid to leave your mother petrified in the supermarket to strike up a conversation with a stranger. We were sort of shocked when your teacher informed us you were a member of the "fighting team"—the high-spirited boys in your fourth grade class. Even though you obediently thumped the piano and pumped the trombone, we could tell you'd be suited for some other field than music. When you set a school record of four fouls in 30 seconds of seventh grade basketball, we found out you'd be better cut out for football. And you proved it by making all-conference your senior year.

College years were a time of testing and maturing, testing yourself in an extremely competitive atmosphere and maturing into young manhood. That was a time of your life like Marine Corps basic training: you're glad to have had the experience, but you never want to go through with it again.

I've always thought you were sort of envious of your dad that he served in the armed forces, but I want you to know that I'm happy that you could satisfy your interest in the military wearing my old fatigues, reading everything about the Civil War you could lay your hands on in grade school, collecting GI Joes, studying World War II history in high school and playing survival games on Sunday morning instead of fighting for survival in combat. I'm happy for you and all the young men of your generation.

I'm happy to help you get your newlywed apartment ready just as you've helped me with household chores over the years. Only your dad doesn't grumble.

You'll be missed, even though you'll be living only a few miles away. Honestly, those scattered auto repair tools, the disassembled military collection, the disheveled bedroom will be remembered fondly when Lisa has the job of getting you to pick up. We'll be looking forward to your "Here's Johnnnny" burst through the door when mom books a family supper.

Can this be the same person I used to prop up in the bathtub to keep from sliding under the suds when a fumbling young father was learning to bathe the baby? Pardon me if I get a bit wistful and choked up.

So it will be up the aisle, a son we nurtured, protected, helped struggle to manhood, shared in the joys and sorrows of growing up, and down the aisle, a married man with responsibilities, beginning a new life. It all seemed to happen so fast. The time was so short.

Congratulations, Bill. Mom and I wish you and Lisa every happiness in the world and all the blessings that life can bestow.

Love,
Dad

Cocaine Enters The Big Buck Market

It's a buyer's market for cocaine, and the typical buyers are becoming younger and less affluent than their predecessors of a decade ago.

Back then a gram of cocaine would have cost $150, maybe $100 if you had the right connections. Now you might be able to get that same amount for 50 percent less, and you wouldn't even have to have the right connection.

As a result cocaine is invading high schools, college campuses and the workplace like never before. Every day, 5000 teenagers and adults give it a try, and estimates run up to four-five million the number of cocaine dependent people in the U.S. today.

Today's average user buys his cocaine on an annual income of less than $25,000, and his age has decreased from 31 in 1983 to 28 today. Also, in 1983 male cocaine users outnumbered females, but there's equality in today's "coke" marketplace with as many women using as men.

"Cocaine is successfully competing with marijuana for the drug dollar," says John McKearn, administrator, Abaris Treatment Center, an alcoholism and chemical dependency center in Beloit, Wis. "It's a stimulant vs. a depressant which fits in with today's lifestyle of more, better, faster."

"Contrary to popular belief, it's also very addictive, very harmful and very dangerous," he states.

Not everyone who uses cocaine will become addicted. According to McKearn, approximately the same percentage of people will become addicted to cocaine as will become addicted to alcohol, prescription drugs or street drugs: about 10 percent of those who use. There are those who believe cocaine addiction runs much higher—as much as 30 percent. However, statistics supporting these claims have yet to be established.

"Not all the information regarding cocaine addiction is in by a long shot," says McKearn. "Research is still in its infancy. However, we do know that addiction to cocaine is like addiction to any other drug. It's a disease and it can be treated."

According to McKearn, three elements must be involved before addiction is present: compulsion, loss of control, and continuing to use the drug even after its use has resulted in negative experiences.

"The problem with cocaine is that it fools the brain into thinking the negative experiences weren't really that negative," says McKearn.

Cocaine use causes neurochemical changes in the brain, he explains. These changes trigger certain responses that are associated with the very basic needs of man: survival, the drive to obtain water and food, and the need to procreate. It basically takes control, dominating or subverting these basic drives until they become secondary.

"Cocaine tells the brain it needs more cocaine," says McKearn. "It doesn't say 'hey, I think we've had enough'."

Consequently, the person who's addicted is simply unable to see the reality of their dependency.

Often it takes someone on the outside to bring reality to the cocaine addict. McKearn says those who would wait for the addict to realize there's a problem and ask for help might just be condemning them to the death sentence.

"If someone you know is having a problem with cocaine, the first thing to do is get information and find out how you can help," says McKearn.

Through the intervention process, even those who don't realize they need help can be made to see the extent of their addiction and subsequently begin receiving treatment, according to McKearn.

Information about cocaine is available through the cocaine hotline at 1-800-COCAINE; Cocaine Anonymous, a self-help group based on the principles of Alcoholics Anonymous. Abaris Center also provides free information at (608)364-1144.

65th Wedding Anniversary

Joe and Marie Dvorak, Antioch, will celebrate their 65th wedding anniversary in June. They were married in Chicago on June 1, 1921.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Lillian Smerz, Fox Lake, and Mr. and Mrs. John (Grace) Veltri, Wheaton.

They bought a cottage on Lake Marie in Antioch 35 years ago, when their grandson put a stick in the water and said, "Buy this one Gramps. I can swim here."

With their daughters married, they continued to raise their six grandchildren, and now have 10 great-grandchildren as well.

They belong to St. Peter's Church in Antioch, where they renewed their wedding

Citrus Adds Zip To Salads, Marinades and Soups

When it comes to gardening, on a scale of one to 10—with 10 a "green thumb"—I'm a "black hand."

Since the 1960s, when a hurricane zapped one of my coconut palms, Mother Nature has acted more like King Tut when this amateur horticulturist got close to the soil.

My track record is disheartening:

The other palm tree contracted lethal yellowing. I played doctor and gave it three injections. The tree died. For years, however, relatives kept asking me why I never brought them any more coconuts.

While visiting mom one summer, she forced me to cart 700 miles, small pots of parsley and chives for transplanting. I did. They grew quite bushy. I used them in cooking until a thoughtful friend, helping me to manicure the front yard, raked them away.

When I attempted to nurse the orange tree, I had no better luck in the back yard. I fertilized. The bearer of tangelos died.

I tired of the avocado tree serving only as a roost for wayward birds. I tried to help. The tree died. The birds kept coming back.

Enter Anita, loving wife, queen of the rose bushes.

She took the lime tree under wing. She found life in the remains of the orange tree and replanted five times. She bought a mango tree and stuck it in the ground.

I watched. Anita did nothing except occasionally water. The trees turned the back yard into a mini-grove.

The mango tree actually yielded the tropical delicacy.

There are five orange trees and all bear fruit. Friends come to fill their bags. I even deliver. While the oranges are tart, they're great for marinating meat and fish.

One orange tree produces look-alikes for French lemons and they make wonderful lemonade.

The lime tree not long ago had its first harvest. The batch was so small that my wife tossed a couple in the garbage and I winced.

"They'll be more," she assured me.

She was right. They were larger, too. Five limes yielded a cup of juice. The skins were a bit thin, but still produced two teaspoons of grated rind.

One reason why I like all those trees in the yard: There's less grass to mow. I need all the help I can get because my "black hand" doesn't cover the lawn.

I fare far better in the kitchen than I do in the soil.

While citrus lends itself to refreshing drinks, the juices also are perfect for salad dressings. Citrus brings out the best in some soups. It perks up salads and vegetables.

Yucatan Lime Soup

7 cups chicken broth
4 chicken gizzards
2 small chicken breasts
1 medium onion, chopped
2 garlic cloves, minced
1 tablespoon cooking oil
1 large tomato, chopped
3/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 teaspoon dried oregano leaves
4 tablespoons lime juice
4 slices grapefruit peel, 1-inch square
Corn chips and thin lime slices

In three-quart saucepan, pour in broth.

Pilot Light

drop in gizzards, and bring to quick boil. Reduce heat to medium low, cover and cook one hour. Add chicken breasts and cook covered 45 minutes. Remove gizzards and breasts; cool. Finely chop gizzards and skin, bone and shred breasts; set aside. Strain broth into large pot and cook on medium low heat. While broth simmers, cook onion and garlic in hot oil in large skillet on medium heat three minutes. Stir in tomato, green pepper and oregano; cook five minutes and stir into broth. Add lime juice and grapefruit peel; cover and cook 35 minutes. Add chicken; heat through and remove grapefruit peel before serving. Place corn chips in soup bowls; add soup and garnish with lime slices. Serves six.

Feline Travel—Easier Than It Used To Be

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

Sooner or later, every cat will do some traveling. He may accompany his owner on vacation or take a trip to the veterinarian.

It's easier to take your cat along on vacation than it used to be. More motels and hotels accept pets. Some amusement parks and resorts now provide kennel facilities for pets.

It is best to plan your trip and to make reservations in advance. Be sure to notify anyone involved that you will be traveling with a pet.

Pet-Wise

Some places will apply certain restrictions such as damage charge, or require the pet to stay caged and quiet.

Should you have camping on your list, you'll find that cats are allowed into any national park or forest if you keep them on a leash. Make sure your pet is up-to-date on all his shots, especially rabies vaccination. It is wise to have papers from the veterinarian with you for verification.

The mode of transportation your cat is most likely to travel, is the car. Don't just throw him in the car and take off on a trip. Ease him into car traveling. Start with short trips near home.

Your cat should travel in his own carrier. Make sure it is big enough for him to stand up and lay with comfort. Put his bedding and favorite toy in with him. It's best if he has slept a few nights in his carrier prior to the trip. That way, he has had a chance to get used to it.

Cages or carriers with a side door seem more durable and easier to work with.

Some cats experience motion sickness during car rides. Symptoms include panting, salivating and vomiting. The veterinarian can give you a mild tranquilizer for him if you anticipate this problem.

Your pet will travel easier if he is given just a light snack on the day you travel. It also helps to make frequent stops.

On long trips, air travel is best for your cat. The safest way is to take him on board with you. There are under-the-seat cages that can be purchased. However, only one animal is allowed in each compartment. Call (212) 656-6042 for more information.

The other alternative is for your caged pet to travel as "excess baggage" on the same plane as yourself. Try to get a non-stop flight. When you land, he can be picked up immediately.

If you aren't traveling with your pet, use a commercial shipper that specializes in pet transportation. Check the time of year that he will be traveling. Federal regulations prohibit air shipment of animals when temperatures are above 80 degrees or below 45 degrees. Early morning travel is best during the summer, before it gets hot.

If he'll be traveling internationally, check with the airlines, foreign consulate and the immigration office on specific health requirements. Some countries are very strict. A few countries require a six month quarantine period for all pets.

For more information, send for "Traveling With Your Pet," an ASPCA booklet. Mail $3 to ASPCA Education Dept., 441 E. 92 St., New York, N.Y. 10028. This booklet lists health requirements of specific states and countries.

Check These Pointers To Aid College Bound

by GARY S. MEYERS

For parents, helping a university-bound youngster make the right choices regarding a college education can be tougher than paying the tuition bills.

Here are some facts about college and money that every parent should know:

A college degree still is one of the surest tickets to a better living. One of every five people age 25 to 29 now has a college degree, up from one in 17 in 1940.

A recent study by the Census Bureau found that in 1983 the median income of male college graduates age 25 to 34 was $21,988. That's 39 percent higher than the $15,789 median for high school graduates.

The biggest share of college costs are borne by parents and their children. Of the $58.6 billion to be spent on college in the 1986-87 school year, 62 percent will be paid by parents and students.

As "The Meyers Report" outlined in other articles in this series, Uncle Sam also provided $15 billion in grants and loans to 9 million students.

Colleges themselves now provide about $4 billion in aid from their own resources. And, tuition installment plans are increasingly popular, with some schools allowing payments stretched over 10 months. Low-interest loans are also available from some schools.

More students are hungry for advanced education today than ever before, and millions of parents are wrestling with questions about college.

According to high school counselors and college-admissions directors, here are some of the major areas of concern for parents of college-bound youngsters:

--LACK OF MONEY. If a family needs financial aid, it won't necessarily hurt a student's chances of getting into college.

Most schools follow a "need blind" admissions policy whereby they accept your child regardless of need, and guarantee to supply whatever funds are necessary. Check to be sure a college adheres to this policy.

In fact, it is better to ask for aid at the time your child applies. If you wait until your child is admitted, most of the aid may already be distributed.

--STUDENT JOBS. Part-time jobs involving less than 15 hours a week tend to have a beneficial effect on school performance. Students learn to budget time and feel more committed to their education because they are helping to pay for it.

However, if your child's financial-aid package does not require that he or she work the first semester of freshman year, it might be best to hold off until campus life becomes familiar.

--ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS. While good grades are important, it won't impress college admissions officials if your child has straight A's in a string of unchallenging courses.

Admissions officers usually seek the following requirement: English courses and emphasis on writing; as much math as skills. They also can familiarize your child with test procedures and teach test-taking skills, such as how to budget time during the exam and make educated guesses.

In addition, more than 1,000 high schools nationwide offer free test-preparation courses, using materials from the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals.

--PICKING THE RIGHT COLLEGE. Experts say parents should be clear-headed and tough-minded when helping their child choose a college. Parents often are impressed by symbols of academic prestige, such as a prize-winning faculty that specializes in research. Students often are impressed by a school's athletic prowess—a football team that is nationally ranked—or the quality of fraternity or sorority life on campus. However, it's just as important to find a good college with professors who care about teaching your child.

--COLLEGE CONSULTANTS. The

National Assn. of College Admissions Counselors, in Washington, D.C. lists consultants among its members and offers guidelines for their conduct. Although they usually have a wide range of knowledge about various schools, the fee for a good college consultant can exceed several hundred dollars.

If you're looking for information, it might be better to try digging for it yourself. Before paying a consultant, seek advice from people who know your son or daughter better—a high school teacher, principal or guidance counselor.

possible; history, with a focus on essay writing and essay exams; laboratory sciences; three years of a foreign language; and some art or music study.

--TESTS AND RANKING. Colleges look at high school class rank and results on standardized tests. But they also want students who will be leaders outside the classroom. Studies show outstanding campus leaders also excelled in high school activities.

--COACHING PROGRAMS. These programs can help performance on either the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the American College Testing Program (ACT). Typically, they cost about $400.

Be wary of claims that coaching will raise your child's score by a set number or points. Coaching programs cannot teach your child geometry if he or she did not take it in high school, although they can help brush up rusty

Name 3 New Directors To First National Bank

Ted C. Axton, president and chief executive officer of the First National Bank of Antioch, announced the election of three new members to the board of directors: Kenneth L. Graesser, Donald C. Marski and A.P. Pedersen, Sr. "We are extremely proud to be able to attract directors of this high caliber. We feel this highlights the hard work of our directors, officers and employees during the past two-and-one-half years and will allow us to go forward with even more confidence into the future," Axton said.

Ken Graesser is a division vice-president for Commonwealth Edison with responsibilities in the nuclear power division. Graesser has a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering and is an Illinois professional engineer. He also is an active member of the Lion's Club of Antioch and the United Methodist Church in Antioch.

Graesser, his wife Shirley, and daughters, Donna and Amy, reside in Antioch. Their daughter, Diane and son-in-law Matt Palaggo, reside in Lyons.

Don Marski is president of Ben Franklin Family Center in Antioch. Marski has a B.B.A. degree from Loyola University and is a past president of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce. Marski, his wife Jane, and children, Dana and Erin, reside in McHenry.

Al Pedersen is a native of Antioch and one of its better-known businessmen. Pedersen is president of Pedersen Bros. Implement Co. in Antioch and is active in St. Peter's Church, the Antioch Rotary Club, the Lion's Club of Antioch and the Antioch Republican Club. Pedersen and his wife Florence, reside in Antioch. Their son, Lloyd, lives in Los Angeles, Calif., and their sons Al Jr., Dean, Dale and Brian, reside in the Antioch area.

The award, based on sales activity, honors top professionals within the Red Carpet area's approximate 40 offices, consisting of over 550 people. Recipients of this award from the Lakeland area are Rusty Canty, Virginia Hileman and Kay Starostovic, Red Carpet C. Frank Realty, located in Fox Lake.

Tax Bills

The first installment of the 1985 Real Estate Tax bills will be due June 2. To make it more convenient for the taxpayer, the Lake County Treasurer's office will be open additional hours on Saturday, May 24, from 9 a.m.-noon and on Saturday, May 31, from 9 a.m.-noon. They will also be open on Monday, June 2, from 8:30 a.m. until 8 p.m. Taxes may also be paid by mail or at any Lake County bank.

THINK OF THEM AS BIG BROTHERS FOR YOUR KIDS.

It's sad.

We can't take it for granted anymore that our children will make it to school, or the store, or the movies, and back.

We can't be sure it's safe for them to play in the park, or the schoolyard, or even the front yard, alone.

Until we can again, until they're finally out of danger, we're turning every Edison employee into family. To give kids in trouble or lost someone to turn to, someone who cares, when there's no police officer close by.

It's not a solution to the problem by any means, but it's a start. A team effort that all of us at Commonwealth Edison take very seriously. Especially the hundreds of crews we have working out on the streets.

Your kids can spot our trucks a long way off. When they see that big E in our logo, or the E-team emblem, they'll know they're among friends.

Please, tell 'em to look for us.

Both the Antioch varsity baseball and softball teams have reached the end of their season with losses in the regionals.

The Antioch diamondmen bowed to Waukegan West, in the second round of the regionals played at Waukegan West on May 22.

Waukegan held the Sequoits scoreless in the 7-0 win.

According to Sequoit Coach Rich Brown, "They got ahead of us right at the start in the first inning when the first five men in order got on base. After they scored three runs it was all downhill for us psychologically."

Free Fishing June 6-9

Anyone may fish Illinois lakes or rivers or Lake Michigan without a fishing license or salmon stamp during a scheduled four-day free fishing celebration.

The 1985 Free Fishing Days were so successful that the event is being repeated June 6-9, and it may be continued annually.

The event is being held in conjunction with National Fishing Week and is designed to stimulate more interest in the sport.

The Dept. of Conservation is scheduling special "Take a Kid Fishing" celebrations at five locations on Saturday, June 7, as part of the Free Fishing Days. Specific areas will be stocked with fish and there will be teaching sessions so that youngsters through age 12 will have a good chance of taking home some fish. The sites are William Powers comeback by loading the bases in the bottom of the first but they couldn't hit pay dirt.

Brown was vociferous about the pitching talents of Waukegan West that kept the Sequoits to a few scattered hits and no runs for the rest of the game.

Antioch ended its season, including the regionals, with an 11-17 overall record.

The Sequoit softballers shocked everyone when they bowed to Zion Benton in the first round of the regionals. Antioch had been seeded first and Zion eighth.

"It was not too much of a surprise to me," said Sequoit Coach Mike Gordy, "although we beat them twice, the first time the win was a big one, but they were much improved the second time."

"There's eight sophomores on that varsity team and they just don't make mistakes. They played it close to the vest and made the most of the opportunities we gave them," he added.

"This was no fluke, they deserved to win!" he finished.

Denise Maple and Dori Harp made Antioch's only two runs. Maple got to first base on a ball-count in the fourth, advanced to second on a wild pitch, took third on a base hit by Beth Dubek and came home on a fielder's choice hit by Linda Sexton.

Rams Bow Out In Quarterfinals

by DAN G. O'SHEA

The Grayslake Rams survived the first game in their own regional baseball tournament last week, only to be clobbered in the quarter finals.

The Rams beat Mundelein 3-1 in their regional opener before losing to Libertyville 9-1. The loss ended the Rams' season, giving them a 13-11 record overall. Grayslake had an 8-6 record in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

The Rams won a tight decision over Mundelein in the first game. Bill Sangbusch pitched a complete game for Grayslake, fanning five and walking three. According to Grayslake Head Coach Jim Haas, the senior lefthander was not overpowering, but mixed his pitches well.

Mundelein scored in the fourth inning to take a 1-0 lead. In the bottom of the inning, a two-out double off the bat of Tom Castino scored junior Mike Langer to tie the game. The score remained 1-1 until the bottom of the seventh when senior catcher Russ Hendricks blasted a two-run homer over the left field fence to give the Rams the victory. Sangbusch had singled before Hendricks came up.

Hendricks had two hits and two runs batted in, and Sangbusch had two hits and a run scored. Junior third baseman Greg Dunski also had two hits and Castino had an RBI.

After playing Mundelein at home, the Rams went to Libertyville for the next tournament game, on May 22. The loss ended the Rams' hopes of reaching the semi-finals back on their home field over the weekend.

The Wildcats scored a run in the third inning and eight more in the fourth, including a 375-foot grand slam home run. However all nine runs were unearned. Righthander Langer was the victim of eight errors by Grayslake.

"It was just one of those days," commented Haas.

Langer struck out one and walked four while going the distance on the mound. "He threw well except for that one inning," said Haas.

Grayslake collected only five hits against Libertyville. Dunski had two hits, Langer had one and an RBI, and Castino and junior Dan Kettwich each had one hit.

Sports Car Show Set For June 15

The Fourth Annual Corvette & Replica & Sports Car Show will be held Sunday, June 15, Father's Day, at the Volo Auto Museum & Sports Car Store.

Adult admission is $4 for the car show, live entertainment and museums. Child's admission is $2, four to 12 years of age and under four free. Parking is free.

Volo Auto Museum & Sports Car Store is in Old Volo on Rte. 120-half a mile west of Rte. 12, between Fox Lake, Wauconda and McHenry. The phone is (815) 385-3644. Old Volo is open daily except Tuesdays.

Tournament To Take Off

Lakeland Publishers, Inc., in conjunction with Coca-Cola, is sponsoring a tennis tournament involving various park districts throughout the Lakeland area, beginning June 6.

Those park districts involved include Mundelein, Round Lake, Gurnee, Zion, Waukegan, Lindenhurst, Vernon Hills and Libertyville.

Each will hold its own individual tournament (men and women's single's only) on a given date, with the winners advancing to the overall tourney championship on Aug. 22, 23 and 24.

Trophies will be awarded to the first and second place finishers, with the first 25 registrants in each tournament receiving a T-shirt.

Participants must be 18 years or older and sign-ups will be conducted by each individual park district.

The top eight players in cumulative points will also qualify for the tournament championship series in August.

One point will be awarded for every match won in each agency's tournament. Individuals may participate in as many tournaments as desired.

Fees will vary from agency to agency, with no fees being assessed for the championship tournament series.

The first tournament will be conducted by the Mundelein Park Dist. on June 6-8. For more information call your individual park district office.

Cats Oust Panthers

Top seed Libertyville and second seed Waukegan West both advanced to the regional championship game of the Grayslake Class AA regional.

Libertyville's Wilcats, co-champs of the North Suburban Conference, beat Grant 9-4 in the semi-final round. Waukegan West, which finished at .500 in the Central Suburban League, ousted Northwest Conference champ Round Lake 12-5 in the other semi-final round game.

The winners were scheduled to meet in the title game May 27 with the winner advancing to the Barrington Sectional.

In first-round games, Grayslake topped Mundelein 3-1 but was then eliminated by Libertyville 9-1.

Grant advanced to the second round by crushing North Chicago 12-0.

Antioch won a home-run battle against Warren, eliminating the Blue Devils 6-4. Carmel edged Zion-Benton in a nine-inning game 3-2.

Grant's Bulldogs topped fourth seed Waukegan East 9-3 and Waukegan West ousted Antioch 7-0 in quarterfinal round games.

Round Lake advanced to the semis with an 8-6 win over Carmel.

Countryside To Offer Clinics

Countryside Golf Course, Mundelein, is offering golf clinics on June 19, 26, July 3, 10 and 17, at 10 a.m., for youth ages eight to 16.

The clinics, taught by a PGA instructor, will cover all aspects of the sport including golf etiquette. The fee for each two-hour class is $6 and players must furnish their own equipment.

Reservations are limited to 20 per session. Call (312)566-5544 for more information.

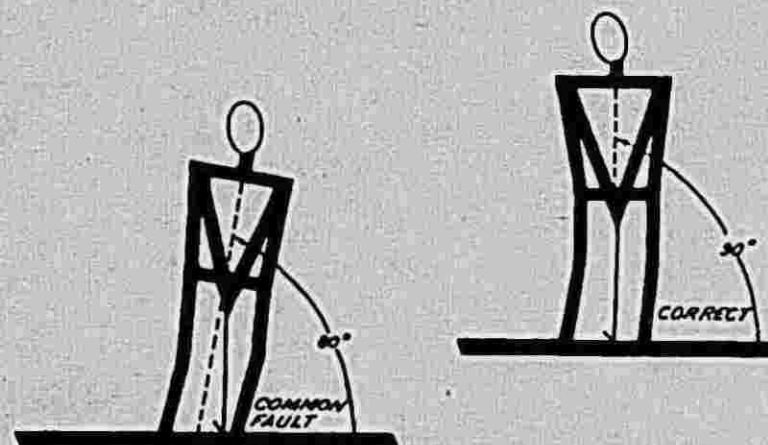

Donald Strenger, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., stated, "Countryside Golf Course is pleased to offer clinics again this year. The reasonable fee schedule emphasizes the district's philosophy of quality golf at reasonable prices."

Q: What changes do I need to make for a downhill lie?

A: Today I'll outline the adjustments needed for a downhill lie and next week, the opposite situation, the uphill lie, will be covered. Depending on the angle of incline of your club will play one club greater in loft, so the trajectory of an 8 iron will be slightly lower, as from a 7 iron. Do not go down one club because of this as the slight fade or slice produced on this shot will compensate for the difference in distance. There are basically only two changes needed: 1) play the ball back in your stance with more weight on your right foot; 2) keep the upper body at right angles to the hill whether that angle is slight or severe.

Saving money by using less gas

THE UNHANDYMAN'S GUIDE TO CAULKING AND WEATHERSTRIPPING.

One of the best ways to save money on energy costs is to make improvements on your home that will help you use less energy.

One of the easiest and most worthwhile things you can do is minimize your heating and cooling loss by caulking and weatherstripping.

If you live in a typical home and install caulking and weatherstripping, you can trim your energy cost for heating by up to $40 per year. You'll recover your investment in two years or less, and after that it's money in the bank.

Caulking and weatherstripping your house requires a minimum of tools, time and know-how. Even not-so-handy homeowners can easily handle this job. You use caulk to plug air leaks outside and weatherstripping inside to seal the openings around doorways and windows.

"LET'S TALK CAULKING"

First, survey your house from the outside. Look for gaps in the exterior walls where you need caulk. Note any missing or sun dried caulk especially on the south side of your house.

Here's where to look:
■ Around all window and door frames
■ Around exhaust fan outlets (bath, kitchen or laundry)
■ Around window air conditioners
■ Around holes cut for hose faucet, wires and pipes
■ Around the chimney
■ Around lighting fixtures
■ Where masonry and siding meet.

Caulk is a flexible sealant designed to fill cracks and gaps in fixed joints of a house. One tube will fill about 25 feet of a narrow 1/4" crack or two small windows. In home centers and hardware stores you'll find a variety of caulks to choose from, but don't let that scare you. Ordinary latex caulk is easy to use and cleanup, and a good bet for the first time user. Silconized caulk is more expensive, but it lasts considerably longer. If you can afford to use a better grade of caulking you won't have to re-do the job every few years.

Check the label to see if the caulk can be painted, how long it takes to dry, the type thinner recommended for cleanup and what the temperature requirements are. Don't forget to purchase a caulk gun, unless you purchase caulk that comes in pressurized cans. Caulk guns usually cost only a few dollars.

■ Clean out the joint thoroughly and let dry. ■ Cut the tube tip off at a 45 degree angle making a 1/4" opening. ■ With the tube in the gun, break the seal with a nail. ■ Place the nozzle in the crack and squeeze the trigger while pushing the tube away from you to fill the gap. ■ Fill deep cracks with several beads of caulk. ■ Clean up immediately and put a nail in the tube nozzle to save for re-use.

WEATHERSTRIPPING—THE INDOOR SOLUTION

Weatherstripping is the best way to stop air leaks.

To detect hidden drafts inside, make your own distress flag by taping a piece of tissue to a pencil. On a breezy day use this detector to find air leaks by holding it near window sills and doorways. If the tissue moves, you've located a spot that needs weatherstripping. Here's where to look for drafts: ■ Around all windows and door frames ■ Space around pulleys in double-hung windows ■ At electrical wall outlets and switches in exterior walls ■ Around heating registers.

Weatherstripping comes in many forms. For instance there are threshold weatherstripping materials designed to fill the gap between the bottom of a door and floor. For doors and windows, there's spring metal or brass weatherstripping that's inexpensive and effective. Self-adhesive plastic weatherstripping is more expensive but easier to install.

As a handy temporary sealer, you can use caulking rope or cord. For electrical outlets and light switches, low cost foam rubber gaskets can be used to seal gaps. And, in your garage molded stripping is available to seal your garage door.

Installation is easy and you'll find instructions with each of these products. Metal weatherstripping is easily cut with a heavy scissors or tin snips. Plastic is cut with a knife or scissors. Before applying adhesive-backed weatherstripping, clean the surface behind the glue for maximum grip.

NOW'S THE TIME.

Now's a perfect time to get to work on projects like caulking and weatherstripping. So why not start now?

It'll be money in your pocket, when next winter rolls around.

Civil War Growing Closer To Our Understanding

The Civil War has grown closer to our understanding since travel sorties have taken us the many scenes of its background in the past few years. Not the least of this educational tie-in was in watching the TV series of North and South. The closeness began with our following the life of Abraham Lincoln over the Lincoln Heritage Trail, covering his beginning in Kentucky.

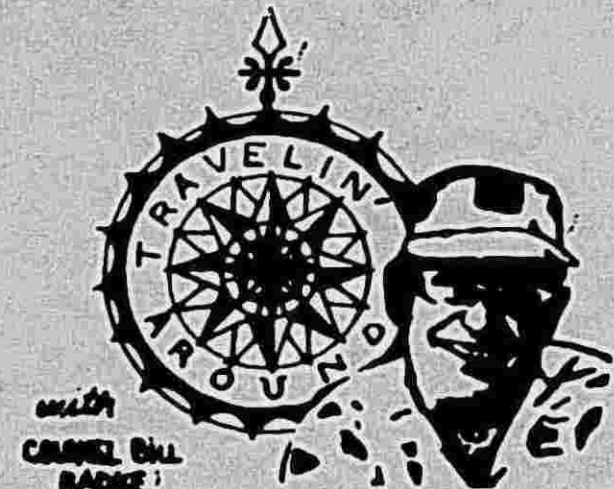

In December of 1808, Thomas Lincoln bought the 300-acre Sinking Springs Farm for $200. Their son, Abraham, was born in a one room log cabin to Nancy Hanks Lincoln on Feb. 12, 1809...and that famous home still stands preserved for viewing.

The family moved to Indiana after a few years and Abraham worked, learned and studied with his mother's help at home and in local schools. Later on in Illinois, he became a lawyer, surveyor, master of human understanding, and a husband and father. Finally, he went to Washington as our 16th president and maintained the Union during the Civil War years of 1861-65.

With all this background history, it was an impressive sight and opportunity to visit Danville last year for a close look at the battle re-enactment. All this combined as background for better understanding the historical significance.

The re-enacted Battle of Stone's River, near Danville, staged at Kennekuk Cove Park, is again scheduled for May 31 and June 1. This authentic group of volunteers who don the clothing and live the lives of those days and deeds, offer a broad understanding of our country's problems during the Civil War. The first phase of the battle will occur at 2 p.m. on Saturday and is finalized at the same time, Sunday, June 1.

Watching the sequence of the battle is exciting and as realistic as it can be made. Soldiers, horses, buggies, medics, nurses and elegantly gowned ladies will bring Americana to the visitor through antique displays, ice cream socials, wagon and buggy rides. Period arts and crafts and interesting discussion, by such authorities as the Civil War's medical corps, help appreciate the problems in caring for the wounded, sick and disabled.

Drilling troops and camp visitations will be highlighted by look alikes of General Grant, Abraham Lincoln and others. A "Weeping and Dying Contest" will match the acting ability of competing couples who portray the "fatally injured soldier" and his "widow."

Supplementing all this history is Vermilion County's Springfest On The Mall in downtown Danville, with rides, games, foods and non-stop entertainment. It begins Friday, May 29, and continues through Sunday, June 1, at 6 p.m.

For details write or call the Danville Area Visitor's Bureau, Box 922, Danville, Ill., 61834...217-442-1887.

Talent Sparks Lake Geneva Centennial

The city of Lake Geneva, in Walworth County, Wis., will make an interesting destination during its June 14-20 centennial celebration. A community fever of participation draws on some surprising local talents to provide a week of pleasure for residents and visitors.

As, to surprising, consider that the centennial parade marshal for Lake Geneva's Saturday, 2 p.m. parade will be none other than Armen G. Avedisian. If that name is unfamiliar, perhaps the name, Lee Iacocca, who heads Chrysler Motors, is recognized. Iacocca, until recently, chaired the National Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island Commission. Avedisian is the gentleman selected to replace Iacocca. Anyone commanding that honor may be expected to marshal an outstanding parade as he supports the Lake Geneva area with his nationally recognized expertise.

But, parade marshal Armen Avedisian's contributions do not stop there. His knowledge and know-how relating to the national July 4 re-dedication of the refurbished Statue of Liberty has allowed him contact with a fireworks display company scheduled for that July 4 celebration. The same firm will light the skies of Lake Geneva with pyrotechnics on Friday, June 20. This spectacular finale at Flat Iron Park on the water's edge, will begin at dusk...the public is invited.

A full, week program of home tours, displays, street and ballroom dancing, band concerts, ice cream socials, boat rides, beard competitions and much more are planned. These combine with 100 years of local memorabilia to form a one, in 100 schedule.

Area brochures and details of the centennial may be obtained by writing the Walworth County Tourism Office, Box 1007, Elkhorn, Wis., 53121. If preferred, a toll free call to 1-800-345-1020 will reach the Lake Geneva Chamber of Commerce who have specifics of the centennial and the general area.

Overnight visitors may want to arrange lodgings in advance from among the excellent selection of some 50 resorts and motels. These, along with restaurants for fast or fine foods, are scaled to a variety of budgets.

Travelers Should Be Aware Of Foreign Tax Laws

Planning to attend a convention in the Bahamas? Does your business trip to Europe include sightseeing plans? The Internal Revenue Service suggests taxpayers familiarize themselves with the tax laws concerning business travel outside the United States.

Generally, individuals may not deduct expenses for attending a foreign convention, seminar or similar meeting unless the meeting is directly related to their trade or business or income producing activity. If the convention is held on a cruise ship, taxpayers may deduct up to $2,000 in expenses if several specific requirements are met.

Individuals who travel outside the United States and spend the entire time on business may deduct all ordinary and necessary travel expenses. If the travel was primarily for business but there were some non-business activities, such as sightseeing, the taxpayer may have to divide the expenses, including travel, between business and non business activities.

If the travel was primarily for vacation and some time was spent attending brief professional seminars or meetings, the entire cost of the trip is a nondeductible personal expense. Only registration fees and other direct business expenses may be deducted.

For more information business travelers should order a copy of Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment & Gift Expenses, by call their local IRS office.

Schedule Sibling Classes

Condell Memorial Hospital, Libertyville, has announced that it will schedule additional free sibling classes throughout the year. The next sibling class will be held from 3 to 5 p.m., Sunday, June 8, at the hospital.

Although there is no fee for the class, registration is required. Contact the public relations/marketing department at (312) 362-2900, ext. 5275, to register. Each class is limited to 15 children, each accompanied by an adult.

The sibling class helps youngsters, ages two and a half to nine years old, prepare for the arrival of a new baby in the family. Participants have the opportunity to practice holding, diapering and feeding a newborn-sized doll. A trip to The New Life Center is included.

Each child also receives a Big Brother/Big Sister T-shirt decorated with an "I Love My Baby" logo and a coloring book.

The next sibling class will be held Sunday, July 20.

Bill May Aid Violators

Law enforcement officers could not stop motorists solely for violating the Illinois mandatory seat belt law, under a bill co-sponsored by Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-McHenry County) and approved unanimously by the Illinois Senate.

Schaffer said the measure (SB 1559) would establish as law the intent of the seat belt legislation as it was presented to the General Assembly two years ago. The aim was for officers to ticket for seat belt violations only when drivers are stopped for other traffic violations as well.

"The fact that there wasn't any floor debate about this new bill clearly shows that this limitation is what the Senate members intended when they approved the measure requiring seat belts," Schaffer said.

The 32nd Dist. Senator said being ticketed merely for a seat belt law violation can be very expensive. "The fine is $25 plus court costs, which may amount to another $25 to $30," he said. "Certainly the General Assembly never intended such a steep penalty solely for a seat belt violation, and this legislation would clearly spell out this limitation."

Fish Is Highly Recommended As A Low Fat Alternative

Question: Are there "secrets" to cooking fish for both, taste appeal and nutritional benefits?

Answer: Fish is highly recommended as a low fat alternative to saturated fat red meats and encouraged by many health professionals as part of regular dietary intake.

Until quite recently, I had never prepared fish except for baking frozen fish sticks. Due to the health advantages I was motivated to incorporate fish into my weekly menu planning. One of my first discoveries was that fish cooks very quickly, and is a fast and often easy main entree.

Secret number one is to cook lightly; do not over cook. If prepared fillet is frozen, broil without thawing for a moist tasty dish. I usually add herb seasoning and a small amount of lemon juice before broiling.

Purchase fish as fresh as possible. In the Midwest part of our country most fish needs to be lightly frozen in order to be shipped in. Most fish available at fish markets and fish sections of supermarkets is as fresh as possible. If the fish has a strong odor when purchased, it most likely is not as fresh as you desire.

If you prepare fish by frying, especially deep fry, you are turning a naturally low-fat food into a high saturated fat food. Also, remember that many frozen fish preparations have been fried then frozen, and baking is recommended before serving. Also, in deep frying preparation the fat will soak into the food itself and removing the crisp-breaded shell will cut down on fat intake, but will not eliminate saturated fat content of that item.

Fish is generally quite bland and needs additional seasoning for taste appeal. Many

Pat D's Nutrition Today

Pat DeAngelis is a nutrition consultant to American International Hospital, Zion. Readers with questions about the food and liquid they consume are invited to address questions to Pat D's Nutrition Today, Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, Ill. 60030.

herbs will increase taste and flavor such as basil, dill and rosemary. For variety try different combinations of herbs and flavor enhancers such as lemon, soy sauce, mayonnaise and wine. One of our favorites is to bake slowly with Thousand Island dressing in a covered container. This method is especially good for bass and perch. The pieces may be lightly breaded first or baked without breading.

Use fish for versatility in soup, in stir-fry dishes, casseroles, salads and appetizers. With all these possibilities, fish most likely can be served daily in one form or another. Shell fish such as lobster, shrimp and crab should be limited in dietary intake because of the elevated fat and cholesterol content.

Due to the ease of digestibility of fish, any toxic contaminants are able to be detoxified by the body, rather than being stored in body fat as contaminants of red meats.

Be creative with your fish dishes. Start out with about two fish entrees a week that your family enjoys and gradually add more combinations of fish to your weekly menus.

Judge Training Classes To Begin Week Of June 9

The summer session of election judge training classes will begin during the week of June 9, according to Lake County Clerk Linda Hess.

"We continue to provide training opportunities in convenient areas of the county to encourage participation of our election judges," said Hess. "Election judges are paid for attending classes, plus their base pay for each election is increased after completing classes."

The next election will be held on Nov. 4 to choose a governor, and other state and local officials. Since this election is one of the larger elections (second only to a presidential election), judges may want to attend the summer classes, as the fall session may be harder to enroll in.

Although the training sessions are free, judges must register in advance with the College of Lake County. To register simply call the college at (312) 223-1111, Monday thru Thursday, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. and between 4 and 8 p.m.

The class schedule is as follows: Lake Shore Education Center Waukegan; July 8 & 15, 9-11:30 a.m., July 24 & 31, 6:30-9 p.m.; College of Lake County Grayslake; June 12 & 19, 1-3:30 p.m., June 23 & 30, 6:30-9 p.m.

Approve Sabbatical Leaves

The board of trustees at the College of Lake County has approved four sabbatical leave proposals for fall, 1986, and spring, 1987. Leaves were approved for Mario Maculan, John Mathwig and Toby Ward for the fall semester. Ed Starshak will be on sabbatical for the spring semester.

Spanish instructor Mario Maculan, of Ingleside, will combine study and travel in Latin America to determine current events and language/linguistic changes taking place in this hemisphere. He will focus on business Spanish as it exists in these countries in order to assist Lake County businesses in their dealings with Hispanic businesses.

John Mathwig, biology instructor from Mundelein, proposes to use his sabbatical to develop a series of five new continuing education courses on water resources in Lake County, to write a laboratory manual for a required core course in the ornamental horticulture program and to revise the environmental biology lab manual. Furthermore, he plans to submit scholarly paper on mosquito population and control for publication.

Physics instructor Toby Ward, of Lake Villa, will study machine language programming and interfacing at Tufts University. He proposes to design physics equipment which will interface with a computer to measure physical quantities in laboratory experiments.

In the spring semester, Ed Starshak, economics instructor from Waukegan, will study the behavior of monopolies using the economics of team sports as a model. He will attempt to determine if the behavior of professional sports conforms with that of a theoretical monopoly and use his findings to attempt a new approach to teaching microeconomics.

Award Illinois Bell

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has named Illinois Bell as the Illinois and National Small Business Advocate of the Year.

The SBA cited "innovative and unique methods of promoting small and disadvantaged business interests" in selecting Illinois Bell for the award.

The SBA lauded the company for its role in creating funds for economic development at colleges and universities, and revising the models used to structure regional, small business and community-based economic development.

Illinois Bell also maintains a data base used by small businesses.

During 1985, Illinois Bell spent $21.4 million with firms owned by minority members and women. The company supported publications and video productions to assist minority and women-owned businesses.

Criteria used to select the Small Business Development Award winner were:

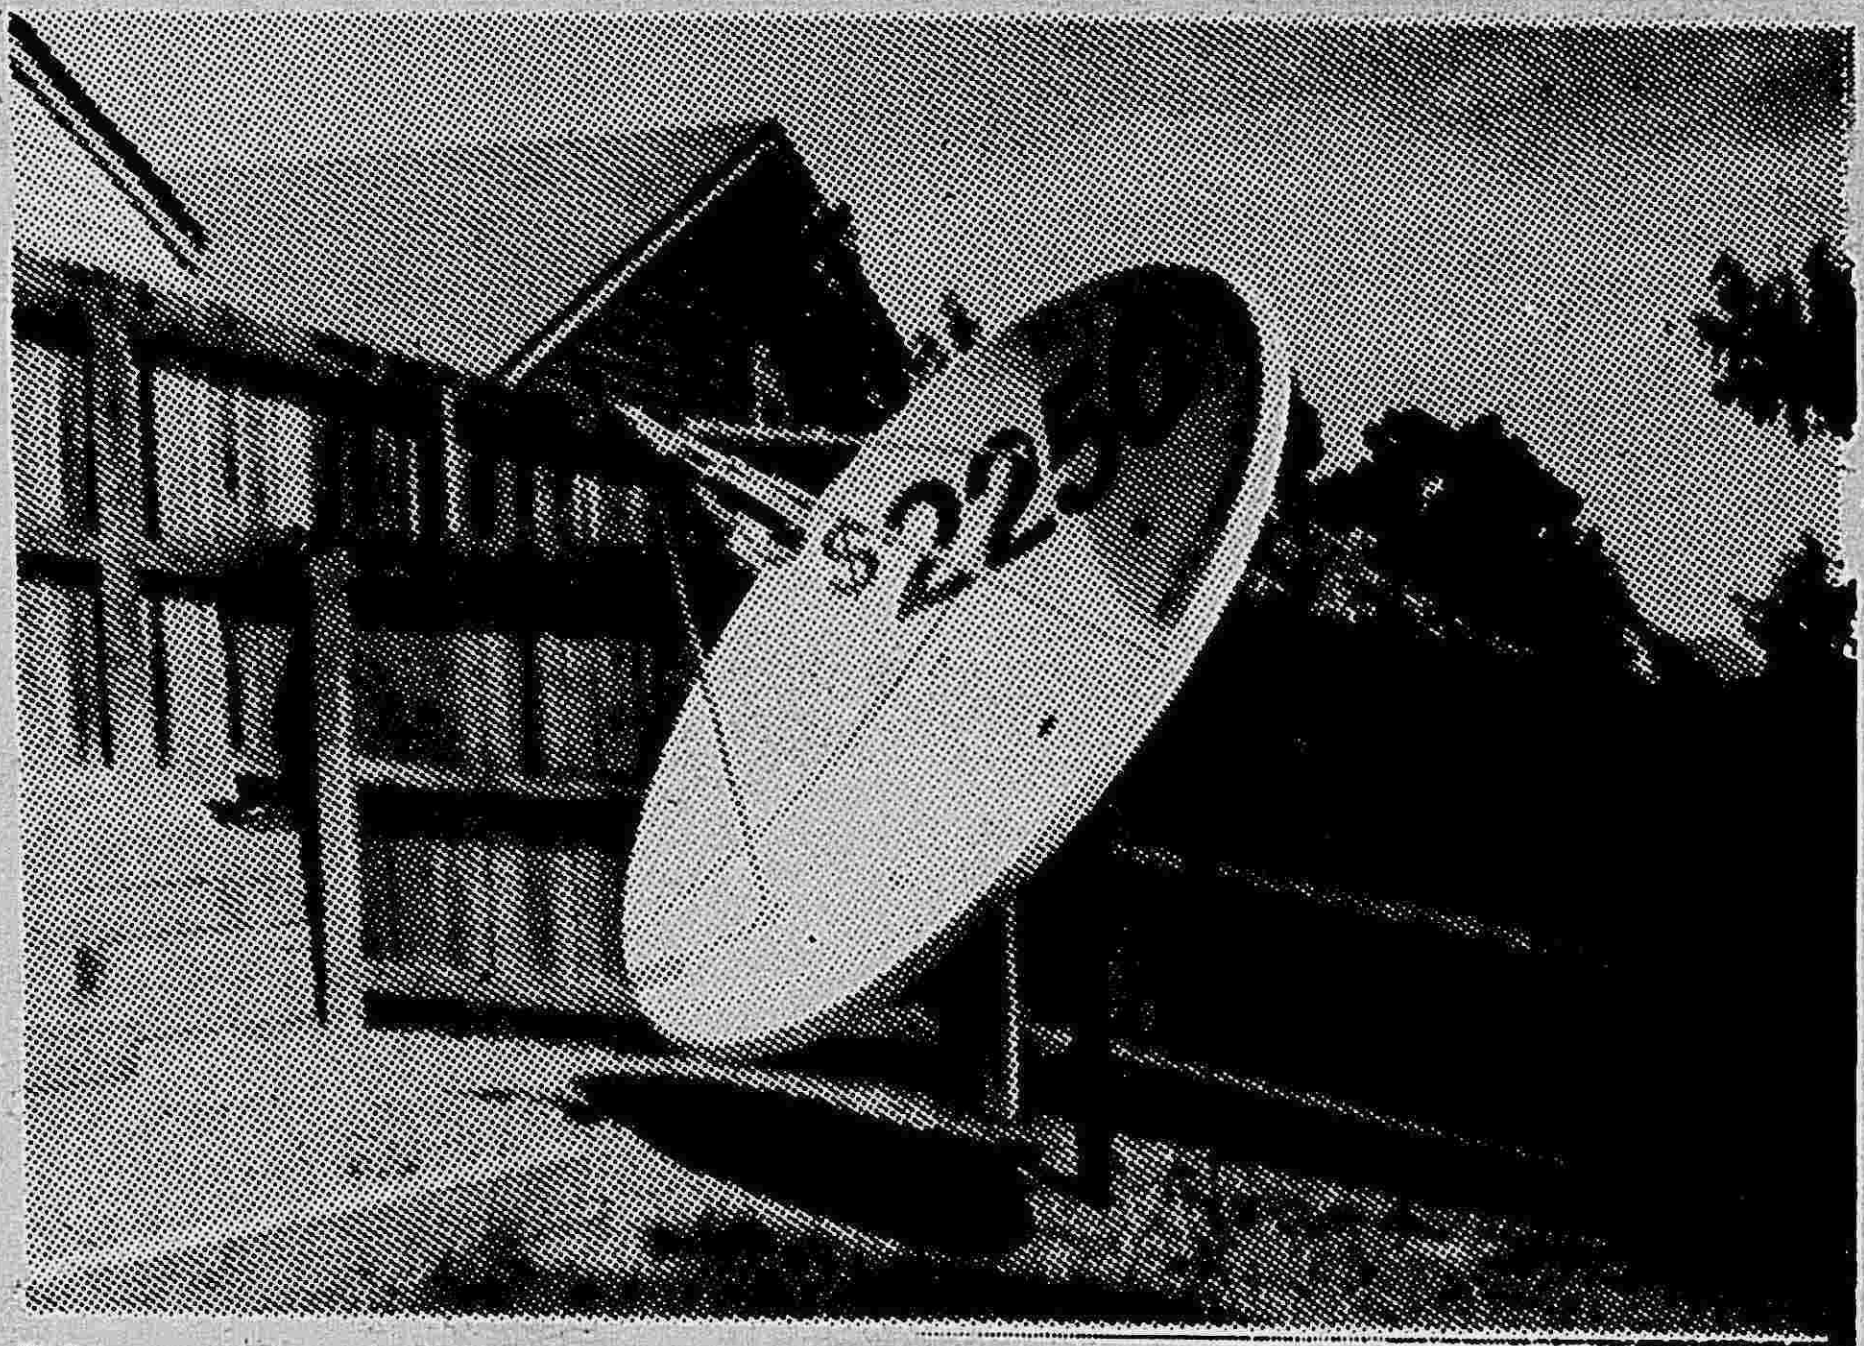

-helping small business firms by providing management or financial assistance,

-increasing employment opportunities within the small business sector,

-increasing the number of contracts that go to small businesses or providing other unique opportunities for small firms to grow and prosper, and

-encouraging small firm start-ups, innovations or technology transfer.

BUYING A HOME SATELLITE DISH IS COSTLIER THAN YOU THINK.

Before you spend your hard earned money on a satellite receive dish you should learn the facts.

This year popular premium services like HBO and Cinemax will begin scrambling their signals with highly sophisticated electronic encryption devices.

And this new technique won't be limited to just premium services.

Many basic cable channels like ESPN, MTV and CNN have announced their intentions to scramble signals.

What does this mean for satellite dish owners?

In addition to paying several thousand dollars for the purchase and installation of a receive dish, it will be necessary to spend hundreds of dollars on descrambling equipment plus pay monthly service fees for each channel received.

Receives Service Award

Pat Neu-Herrick (left), Home Health Care consultant for Blue Cross and Blue Shield, presents a certificate of recognition from Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Illinois to Mary Carter, R.N., M.P.H., director of the Division of Nursing Services, Lake County Health Dept., for the health department's outstanding performance under the Coordinated Home Care Program.

Cost Containment Program Working

During the first three months of 1986, Commonwealth Edison's cost containment program reduced operating and maintenance expenditures by $27 million compared to the similar period one year earlier, D.J. Bieschke, district manager, Waukegan Dist. declared.

The program, introduced in October 1985, is aimed at maintaining a flat level of operating costs through 1988 in an effort to minimize rate increases. All areas of the company are working less without compromising safety or the quality of service to customers, according to Bieschke.

Highlights of the program include:

—a reduction in the total workforce of over 300 positions, accomplished through a complete, ongoing freeze on hiring plus normal attrition.

—a more than 30 percent reduction in overtime, primarily through the rescheduling of work. Reductions in overtime work do not apply to the emergency restoration of electric service.

—wage containment, including a freeze on middle and upper management salaries, saving over $9 million.

—renegotiation of office equipment vendor contracts, which will result in savings totaling more than $6 million during the next five years.

—a savings in telephone expenses amounting to $2.5 million.

—cancellation of various internal programs, including four major annual conferences.

—consolidation of two operating areas with coun-

County Health Dept. Receives Certificate

The Home Health Services of the Lake County Health Dept. has received a certificate of recognition from Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Illinois.

Pat Neu-Herrick, Home Health Care consultant for Blue Cross and Blue Shield, said the certificate was being awarded "because of the Lake County Health Dept.'s outstanding performance under our Coordinated Home Care Program."

Under this home-care program, hospital patients with permission of their physicians can elect to recuperate from an illness or injury at home. Blue Cross and Blue Shield contracts with the Home Health Services of the Lake County Health Dept. to provide nursing care as needed during the recovery period, Neu-Herrick explained.

10 reasons why you should maintain and increase your newspaper advertising when business is slow.

1. Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage at the very moment when you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

2. In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want to be sure before they buy; they want information about products, services, prices and values. The best source is newspaper advertising. Yours—or somebody else's.

3. Maybe you figure other retailers in your line are going to cut back their advertising, so it's safe for you, too. Right? Wrong. You're in competition for the customer's dollar with very other retailer in town, no matter what he or she sells. People have only so many dollars to spend and if they don't spend them for what you sell they'll spend them for something else.

4. There are more people working now than ever before. More women working, too, adding to the family income. People still need and want goods and services and will spend for them. There is plenty of business out there. Your competitors will be bidding for their share—and yours.

5. You can't do much about most factors in the marketplace: rent, labor cost, price or merchandise, what the competition will do. But one thing you do control is your own promotion. Remember that newspaper advertising is not just a cost of doing business. It's a proven sales tool that returns many times your investment in store traffic and sales.

6. Remember how long it took you to get started? Once you build up a business, you can keep it going with a moderate, consistent advertising program. But if you cut your advertising and lose your hold on the public's awareness you'll find it's much harder to build it up again. It's sort of like starting all over.

7. Your advertising is part of your sales force. Newspaper ads help to pre-sell the customers and help you close the sale faster. What saves you time saves you money.

8. You say your customers know you and for a while at least they'll keep coming in even if you don't promote? That's partly true, but shortsighted. Remember, one out of five Americans moves every year. So there's a steady flow of your customers out of your market, and a corresponding influx of new folks who don't know you at all. Tell them about yourself.

9. Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a business that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.

10. Advertising is "news" — about products and services. Your customers look for this kind of news in the pages of Lakeland Newspapers. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the newspaper because it provides an immediate payoff at the cash register.

Offer Variety Of Investments

TERRY FOLBRICK

Your Individual Retirement Account (IRA) not, in itself, an investment. It is not an investment product. Rather, it is a simple plan that allows you to take advantage of immediate tax benefits while it helps you accumulate money over a period of time for eventual retirement.

As a wage earner, you are probably eligible for an IRA, even if you are covered by another retirement plan. You can open an IRA with several different qualified institutions, such as a bank, credit union, insurance company or an experienced investment firm.

Nearly 40 million people in the U.S. have opened IRAs since 1982, when Congress allowed financial institutions to offer them to wage earners. And, as the money in the accounts begins to accumulate, many investors are looking for ways to make the most of their "nest eggs."

For example, working couples who have made the maximum annual contribution of $4,000 ($2,000 per person) since 1982 will have approximately $14,500 tucked away (assuming a 10 percent rate of interest applied to the account) and may now want to consider different investment vehicles.

Several of the options available today are listed here:

Mutual Funds. A family of mutual funds that allows you to move your investment among the funds within the family is often preferred by financial planners. Just about any type of mutual fund is available, too. That way, if the fund you're in takes an unfortunate turn for the worse, you can switch to another fund in the family.

Mutual funds offer diversification and professional management of the portfolio. Risk is minimized with mutual funds because investors share in the profits and losses of the fund—according to the number of shares that they hold.

Some mutual funds are designed specifically to meet the needs of IRA investors. These funds offer safety through diversity because they are able to invest in stocks, bonds, money market securities or a combination of all three.

Annuities. Fixed-rate annuities are another way to fund your IRA. These annuities pay a fixed rate of return that is generally adjusted annually and offer a range of maturity dates. If this vehicle is selected, however, you should be aware of any extra charges—such as a surrender charge if you decide to withdraw or transfer your IRA before the annuity matures.

But, keep in mind that annuity earnings are already tax-deferred. Therefore, since an IRA's earnings are also tax deferred, you may not want to establish a tax shelter for a tax shelter.

IRAs also may be based on deposit accounts—from floating-rate money market accounts to certificates of deposit with maturities of 10 years or more.

Above all, remember the IRA "ABCs":

—Any individual who gets a paycheck can put up to $2,000 a year into an IRA. For a one wage-earner couple, the maximum is $2,250.

—The contribution is deductible from taxable income, and all earnings accumulate tax-deferred until they're withdrawn.

—Regardless of when you file your 1984 return, you have until April 15 to contribute to your IRA and claim the deduction. Many IRA holders file early and use their tax refund to make their IRA contributions.

—Any money you take out of the IRA before reaching age 59½ or becoming disabled is hit with a 10 percent penalty. Also, you must begin withdrawing money by age 70½ or face a penalty.

—You can open any number of IRAs as long as the total annual contribution doesn't exceed $2,000 (or $2,250 for one income couples). For example, your IRA investments could include $1,000 in a certificate of deposit, $500 in a mutual fund and $500 in stocks, all in the same year.

—You can move your money among investments—as long as you have the investment trustees or custodians handle the transactions. You can take possession of the money for 60 days and move it, but you must wait 12 months before doing it again.

You don't have to make a contribution every year or make the full $2,000 contribution each year. Many IRAs can be opened for as little as $50 and allow payments to be made throughout the year. Keep in mind, though, that regular investments add up.

It's important to understand exactly what an IRA is and how it can work for you. The main idea is to establish an IRA that is best for you—and then make the most of your IRA money.

Poison Ivy, Poison Oak: 2 Dangers

Two of summer's dangers are poison ivy and poison oak. Parents can spend money in purchases of calamine lotion or other salves and time trying to abate a child's misery. But there are other methods to combat these afflictions of plant poisoning, and there is no better place to start than right in your own backyard.

Poison ivy and poison oak are most commonly found in rural areas of the United States. However, residential communities can also be plagued with these poison plants whether they are found in backyards or area parks.

These plants grow either as vines or are thickly grouped so that they appear as overgrown bushes or weed patches. Unfortunately, many of these plants are attractive enough to be mistaken for safe and pretty wild ground cover.

Chemical research has helped to develop a variety of garden products which eliminate poison ivy and poison oak from residential areas. A new product containing triclopyr as its active ingredient is now available which controls poison plants in a single application.

In addition, this new product will have very low toxicity to fish and birds and pose no problems to animals or humans from incidental contact.

Ortho has developed this new product, Ortho BRUSH-B-GON Brush Killer, which is absorbed by both leaves and stems and is readily translo-cated throughout the plant. Similar products are best when applied to mature foliage and significant results should occur if used when plants are fully leafed out and actively growing with adequate moisture in the soil.

Users should be reminded that rainfall within 24 hours may reduce the effectiveness of any product and that it is not recommended to use brush killers near feed or food crops.

If other weed plants besides poison ivy and poison oak are taking up residence near your home, it is a relief to know that this new herbicide, besides killing poisonous plants, is also effective against willows, kudzu vines, wild roses, wild blackberries and other brush-like invaders.

Pinching, Pruning Can Increase Growth

Do you have a favorite houseplant that has grown tall and spindly, or is not as full as you'd like it to be? If so, then you're probably not pinching or pruning it as you should.

Pinching and pruning are important techniques for stimulating added leaf and stem growth for fuller, lusher houseplants. Both are important for good grooming to keep houseplants manageable in size and attractively shaped.

Pinching

Although it works well for all plants, pinching is especially effective for forming fuller growth in very young, soft-stemmed plants, such as coleus, geraniums and wax or angel-wing begonias.

To pinch, use your thumb and forefinger to remove, or pinch off, the new growth at the tip of a stem. This simple procedure forces the dormant buds below the pinch to become active and to form new stems or leaves.

For very young plants, make sure the plant has had an opportunity to form several leaves before you begin pinching.

Pruning

According to Ortho's newly revised guidebook, "All About Houseplants," timely pruning is an effective way to stimulate new growth and to keep plants attractively shaped.

Pruning can also revive sickly plants and make flowering plants, such as miniature roses, fuchsias and gardenias, blossom more profusely.

For pruning, you will need a good pair of small hand-pruning shears. To prune, cut a stem anywhere along its length above a leaf, or at the stem's point of origin.

Stems cut above a leaf will form a new growth near the pruned tip. Stems cut at their point of origin will force new growth in other stems or at the base of the plant.

First Frost Damage Can Be Beaten

The first frost of winter does not have to bring doom to your favorite annual or perennial garden plants.

If potted and brought indoors before the first frost, there are a number of varieties of annual and perennial flowering plants that will continue to bloom for weeks, months or indefinitely.

Flowers that do well indoors
According to the newly revised Ortho guidebook, "All

About Houseplants," annual or perennial garden flowers that produce sturdy new growth at the base whenever cut back work the best when brought indoors. These include petunias, wax or semperflorens begonias and nicotianas.

Other flowering plants that work well indoors include geraniums, snapdragons, impatiens, French marigolds, heliotrope, ageratums, lobelia, lantana, torenia, browallia, sage, sweet alyssum and verbena.

There are also a number of popular herbs, such as sweet basil, marjoram, parsley, borage, lemon verbena and scented geraniums, that can be potted and moved indoors for continued use throughout the winter.

Bringing plants indoors
To bring indoors, pot only healthy garden plants about two or three weeks before the first frost is expected.

To pot, remove the plant from the ground using a sturdy trowel or spade. Leave the root system fully surrounded by dirt and as intact as possible.

If the soil is dry, water a few days before digging. This will make digging easier and reduce damage to the root system.

Place the plant in an appropriately sized pot with fresh soil. Cut off spent blooms and cut back old growth to encourage strong new growth, then water thoroughly.

Once potted, place the plant in a moist, shaded spot for a few days before bringing indoors. A plant transferred from the ground to a pot undergoes a certain degree of shock.

Leaving the plant outdoors in a shady spot for several days allows the plant to acclimate itself to its new pot and to the reduced light it will have indoors.

When you bring the plant indoors, place it on a sunny windowsill or under fluorescent light and keep the soil moist.

With careful transplanting and proper fertilizing and care, your plants should continue to grow and bloom indefinitely.

Astroturf Gives 365 Green Days

Replacing your lawn with astroturf is probably the most effective way of keeping your front and backyards green 365 days a year. It also costs a fortune to install the carpet most people associate with football, baseball, and domed athletic stadiums. Fortunately, there are a number of effective methods for keeping your lawn in top shape all year long.

Common lawn problems

Hard work is the first step in any lawn-care project. There are enough weeds, pests, and diseases around to terrorize your lawn that you have to be prepared for everything. One common problem is the appearance of ugly brown and bare spots.

The secret to successful lawn disease control is rapid diagnosis and treatment before the affliction gets a head start.

Most of the serious diseases of lawn grasses result from infection by microscopic fungi. These fungi produce spores or other resistant forms that are spread by wind, water, lawn mowers, or infected plant material, such as grass clippings.

Plant diseases usually thrive when moisture is prevalent, and most are not particular about the climate. Some diseases appear during warmer months, while others prefer cooler temperatures.

The best way to prevent disease is to plant a variety of grass that is especially resistant to common afflictions. However, if it is too late to retract a month's worth of lawn-growing efforts, it is a good idea to seek the counsel of a local garden-supply dealer or nurseryman.

Most experts agree that application of readily available disease-control products, such as Ortho Liquid Lawn Disease Control, is a good way to start the fight against lawn diseases.

Treat diseases promptly

Products like these are most effective if applied before the disease becomes severe. Higher dosages and more frequent applications become necessary if the disease is not treated promptly. These treatments should continue until the lawn is visibly recovering from its ailments.

Since many lawn diseases can be difficult to diagnose, you should contact your local county agricultural agent for literature regarding different types of lawn diseases. These brochures are usually free of charge. Another good source is Ortho's book, "All About Lawns," which offers a wealth of information about disease control in every region of the United States.

RESOLUTION 5-13-86-2

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE LEVY OF A TAX NOT TO EXCEED .02% FOR THE WAUCONDA TOWNSHIP PUBLIC LIBRARY FOR THE PURCHASE OF SITES AND BUILDINGS, FOR THE CONSTRUCTION AND EQUIPMENT OF BUILDINGS, FOR THE RENTAL OF BUILDINGS REQUIRED FOR LIBRARY PURPOSES, AND FOR MAINTENANCE, REPAIRS AND ALTERATIONS OF LIBRARY BUILDINGS AND EQUIPMENT.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF TOWNSHIP TRUSTEES OF WAUCONDA TOWNSHIP, LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS, AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1: It is hereby found and determined that in order to provide sufficient funds with which to purchase sites and buildings, construct and equip buildings, rent buildings required for library purposes, and to maintain, repair and alter library buildings and equipment, it is in the best interests of this Board of Township Trustees to authorize the levy of a tax not to exceed .02% of the assessed valuation of this Township all as authorized by Section 3-1 of Chapter 81 (Libraries) of the Illinois Revised Statutes (1985). Such tax is hereby determined by this Board of Township Trustees to be levied for the fiscal year beginning March 1, 1986 and ending February 28, 1987, for funds to be received from the extension of taxes in 1987, said levy to be incorporated in the Annual Levy Ordinance to be filed with the Tax Extension Office of the County Clerk, Lake County, Illinois.

Section 2. The public is hereby notified as follows:

1. The specific number of voters required to sign a petition requesting that the question of the adoption of this resolution be submitted to the electors of the Township is 128;
2. The time in which such petition must be filed with the Township Clerk is 6-25-86;
3. The date of the prospective referendum is 11-4-86. The Clerk of this Township shall provide a petition form to any individual requesting one.

Section 3. The Township Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to publish this resolution within 15 days of its adoption at least once in one or more newspapers published within the Township, then in one or more newspapers with a general circulation within the Township. If no petition is filed with the Board of Township Trustees within 30 days after publication of the resolution, or if all such petitions so filed are determined to be invalid or insufficient, the Township shall then be authorized to levy the tax as hereinabove set forth. However, if within the 30-day period, a proper petition is filed with the Township Trustees, asking that the question of levying such a .02% tax be submitted to the electors of the Township, the question shall be submitted at the next regular election, being Tuesday, November 4, 1986.

Section 4. This resolution shall be in full force and effect immediately upon its passage and publication.

Derby Lists Sportsmen's Rules

This year's Northern Ill.
Conservation Club's Chain
O'Lakes Area Summer
Fishing Derby started at 12:01 a.m. on Saturday, May 24 and end at midnight on Monday, Sept. 1.

Fishing will take place in the Fox River, from the Wilmet Dam south to the McHenry Dam, and those lakes that are part of or connected to the Chain O'Lakes by rivers, creeks or streams.

Those fish inherent to the above waters will be tagged with this years summer derby color-Red. These fish had no prize value prior to Saturday, May 24 or after Monday, Sept. 1, except that of being entered in next February's drawing.

Fisherman are asked to turn in all tagged fish to the nearest local claiming station (bait shop) for creel test, dead or alive, all year round, even if this year's summer fishing derby button hasn't been purchased.

This will enter fishermen in a drawing which will be held at the next years ice fishing derby in February. Prizes will be awarded in the form of a check for $300, $150 and $50.

Entrants must purchase a registration button from one of the authorized claiming or registration stations at least 24 hours prior to turning in this years tagged fish. Proof of prior registration will be required before qualifying for any of this years summer derby prizes.

Fishing Clubs having one day or weekend tournaments are the exception they may call (in advance) (312) 395-NICC. To have a NICC representative present at the time of the tournament to oversee and help in the sale of buttons. A button is only valid to that person that registered and purchased it.

If lost, a new one must be purchased no refunds will be given for buttons.

Tag numbers, colors,
sponsors name and list of prizes will be posted at the claiming stations. Also the drawing will be held next February.

To claim prizes, entrants must present live fish with tag intact, proof of registration, valid fishing license, if needed, to a claiming station (bait shop)
and complete a voucher

form. The claiming station will notify a representative of the NICC who will fill out a duplicate voucher form having the club seal and two authorized NICC signatures.
This duplicate form will be given to the winner at the later time so that it can be turned over to the sponsor for that assigned prize.

Sportsmen's Honor System plus State of Illinois fishing rules and regulations will apply. Advertising, registration or participants, insurance of registration buttons, claiming and
registration stations, tagging and placing of all fish and any other radministrative duties will be the responsibility of the NICC Summer Fishing Derby Committee.

To Salute Lady Liberty

"Lake County Salutes Lady Liberty" on Thursday,
June 26, at the Sheraton-Waukegan Inn, Waukegan.
The event will be a county-wide historical tribute to the Statue of Liberty's 100th Anniversary and her renovated good looks which will be nationally honored the following week in New York City.

"The Altrusa Club of Waukegan is hosting a
'sneak preview' and special party to honor our Lady of Liberty right here in Lake County," said Barbara
Richardson and Mary Carter, co-chairmen of the event, "and we are telling everyone about it early so they can mark calendars
now and make their plans to attend."

Plans include a fascinating evening of facts, fads and fashions of famous females from throughout history by Hannah Steich-mann of Ingleside as well as fashions of their equally famous, or soon-to-be-famous, today's counterpart. Fashions for today's women will be shown by Carson Pirie Scott and Company, Casual Corner,

the Globe Dept. Store, Gloriette's Bridal and Boutique, Jack's Women's and Children's Fashions, J.C. Penney Co., and Langworthy's of Liber-tyville.

The 100th Anniversary celebration will begin at 5 p.m. and conclude at 7 p.m.
where the Sheraton's famous hors d'oeuvres will be served.
Door prizes and a raffle of outstanding prizes will benefit the Statue of Liberty Foundation and local Altrusa Community and vocational service projects.
The Altrusa Club is the world's oldest and largest international classified service organization for women with over 22,000

members in 20 countries whose motto is "Patriotism - Efficiency - Service."

Drinking-Age Raise Vote To Be Very Close

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Wisconsin Legislature is expected to vote on a revised version of the drinking age raise bill sometime this week.

Gov. Anthony Earl, who predicts a form of the bill raising Wisconsin's drinking age to 21, will be passed, said that he will continue to call the legislators back until that happens.

The bill written by a special conference committee allowing 19 and 20 years olds to continue drinking beer until 1988 when the drinking age would go to 21 across the board for all alcoholic beverages was turned down by an assembly vote of 45-52 on May 23.

Members of the assembly that voted against that version of the bill said it would do little to stop Wisconsin from becoming a drinking island for teens (who normally drink beer anyway) from the surrounding states of Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota, states that have already passed the 21-year-old drinking law. Iowa votes on an age raise soon.

Completes

Army Private James P. Patchak, son of Richard V. and Sandra L. Patchak of 300 N. Beck Rd., Lindenhurst, has completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Over 4,000 members and backers of the Wisconsin Tavern League besieged the capitol in Madison on May 21, the opening day of the special session called by the governor, calling for a turn-down of any bill raising the drinking age.

The loss of state tax revenues, the loss of jobs in taverns, and the predicted closing of many taverns in the state, were shouted from placards and by protestors, in an effort to influence the vote.

Although the bill containing the 19 and 20-year-old beer clause was meant as a compromise with the liquor lobbyists, Michael Birkley, the tavern league's executive director, said the league was happy at the defeat of any bill raising the drinking age.

The conference committee is expected to come up with a "cleaner" bill to be considered by both the Wisconsin House of Representatives and Senate by the end of this week. The vote is predicted to be a close one whatever the version of the bill.

NEXT WEEK'S

HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

- Aries (Mar. 21-Apr 19) Avoid getting all steamed up over an irksome affair by staying out of hot water in the first place. Careless words can cause too many tempers to flare.
- Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Face that difficult situation with confidence. A bullish attitude sets you up as a winner. Favorable news comes through sooner than you expected.
- Gemini (May 21-June 20) Competing forces could cause confusion. Stick to your original goals regardless of the pressure exerted. Your efforts are soon acknowledged.
- Cancer (June 21-Jul 20) Positive attitudes remain your best means of improving that domestic situation. Help will come from a new source. Also expect another job offer soon.
- Leo (Jul. 21-Aug. 22) Invest in some new party threads to meet the looming upsurge in your social life. Several interesting situations are soon spun off as well.
- Virgo (Aug. 22-Sept. 22) A period of conflicting emotions could cause problems. Your best bet: stick to facts. Don't allow anyone to pressure you into a decision.
- Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) A personal situation improves. Continue to stress the positive and you soon ease the stress on those who then follow your example.
- Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Don't be panicked into a quick decision. Those who urge you to save time now could cause you to lose time later. Prudence is advised.
- Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Open up to a close friend who needs reassurance about your intentions. Delay could be interpreted as disinterest. Act now to save this relationship.
- Pisces (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) An associate tries to get you involved in a sticky situation. Avoid getting stuck in that unpleasant mess by staying as far away as you can.
- Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) An unexpected complication causes a delay in an important business matter. Be patient. Better news follows soon. Meanwhile, check other areas.
- Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) The tide has turned in your favor. This time, take advantage of opportunities before they are swept away by opportunistic rivals.
- 1986, McNaught Synd.
